Running Gun Fight Marks Mine Violence

Union Official, Partner Face Arson
Charges in Outbreak at Broulan Reef

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Police arrested two men, one a union official, after a running gun battle at the strike-bound Broulan Reef gold mine early today and accused them of attempted murder and attempted arson.

Cut Rate Car Insurance In Two Weeks

Over-the-Counter
Service Assured

All-State Insurance, a subsidiary of Sears-Roebuck Ltd., which gained recognition in the United States for selling cheap "over-the-counter" car coverage, will start operating in British Columbia within two weeks.

The company will offer car insurance at an average of 17 per cent below prices offered by other companies.

A company spokesman told the Times from Vancouver today an office has been established at 1980 Burrard Street "and will be open for business in two weeks."

"We can offer the cheaper rates because we operate more efficiently," the official said. British Columbians will be able to buy the insurance through the mail. Circulars are now being sent out.

All-State is fully licensed to operate in the province. Its move into B.C. is linked with the Simpson-Sears expansion here. (Simpson-Sears joined last year with Simpson's to form Simpson-Sears Ltd.)

It has been contended the across-the-counter policies eliminate administration costs and agents' commission, which have been estimated to take as much as a 38-cent bite out of every premium dollar.

Ships Limp Into Seattle After
Crash in Strait

SEATTLE (AP)—The freighters Nashua Victory and North Beacon limped into port under their own power today after a collision off the mouth of the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The Coast Guard said neither vessel was believed seriously damaged. An inspection crew was ordered aboard to make a survey.

The ships collided in heavy fog off Umatilla lightship Wednesday afternoon. The Coast Guard said the Nashua Victory, which was under charter to the United States government, was en route to San Francisco from Seattle. The North Beacon sailed from San Francisco Sunday for Seattle.

Minister of State Quits Post in French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Minister of State Francois Mitterrand resigned from the French cabinet today in protest over the government's policies regarding the troubled North African port territories.

The 37-year-old minister, most liberal member of Premier Joseph Laniel's right-wing coalition government, handed in his resignation Wednesday. The premier asked Mitterrand to think it over, but after a long talk with Laniel this morning, the minister said he definitely was leaving.

"I couldn't see where my ideas had much influence on government policy," he said, "and the minimum of honesty required for a politician in such a case is to go."

A long-standing feud between Mitterrand and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault came to a head during a cabinet meeting

Ontario Provincial Police laid the charges against Patrick Walsh, 26, president of the United Steelworkers of America CIO-CCL local at McIntyre Gold Mines, and Alphonse Norcum, 32, a miner. They were held without bail at nearby South Porcupine jail.

Police said they also charged the two men with carrying offensive weapons.

The charges came a few hours after two men were ambushed near the Broulan Reef gold mine 10 miles east of here in the rich Porcupine gold-mining area. Police said the men were on their way to burn down the shaft house.

Norcum is an employee of Paymaster Gold Mines. Neither Paymaster nor McIntyre is involved in the walkout of nearly 1,000 steelworkers in the area.

Norcum was arrested on the Reef property near here by a squad of police stationed around it in anticipation of the arson attempt. A second man escaped into the nearby bush and got away after an exchange of shots with police.

The shooting, which broke out in pre-dawn darkness, was the latest in a series of skirmishes—including two dynamite explosions that have occurred since 350-odd Broulan workers struck nearly eight weeks ago for higher wages and shorter working hours. The walkout spread to three other mines and left 1,000 miners out of work.

During the shooting, a bullet passed through the tunic of Constable David Plaut of Timmins about two inches from his heart. However, no one was injured.

Police said a Colt automatic was found at the spot where Norcum was arrested and ammunition to fit the weapon was found in his pocket. A gallon can of gasoline also was found there.

Police plan to search the surrounding bush today for a German Luger or similar weapon that uses nine-millimetre ammunition. They said Walsh was unarmed when arrested.

LONG KISS MAY CURE HICCUPS

LONDON (CP)—A lingering kiss may be a scientific cure for the hiccups. A doctor wrote in a British medical magazine that "some cases of hiccups are of mental origin and can be stopped by diverting the mind."

Wednesday when Bidault nominated a little-known civil servant, Pierre Volzard, as new resident-general in Tunisia.

Mitterrand's resignation was not expected to endanger the life of the Laniel cabinet. His main duties as minister of state were to handle France's relations with the Council of Europe—a kind of unofficial parliament set up to work out a foreign federation.

Hurricane Winds

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A hurricane with winds clocked at 138 miles an hour churned up mammoth waves across Atlantic shipping lanes today but apparently spared the oft-battered Leeward Islands.

The highest winds were found 280 miles northeast of Antigua, the British island which had been warned Wednesday to prepare for the worst.

DONALD GORDON

Atomic Locomotive Ahead Says Gordon

CNR Head Tells Businessmen Here
Of Technical Progress Made By Rails

The possibility of an atomic-powered locomotive was visualized today by Donald Gordon, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways.

In an address to a joint luncheon meeting of Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel, Mr. Gordon said this possibility lies beyond the gas turbine.

"We know that atomic energy can be harnessed to drive a submarine, and it may well prove feasible as an instrument of railway motive power, although no one seems yet to have discovered a way of safely installing an atomic pile within the more confined space of a locomotive," he said.

Meanwhile, the field of technical efficiency is the "only one in which we are still allowed latitude to exercise our own judgment."

"We are taking advantage of advances in engineering science to improve our operating efficiency and reduce costs."

Mr. Gordon cited the CNR's dieselization program as one example of how the railway is keeping pace with technological progress. However, he added the CNR is not in any sense committed to the universal adoption of any single type of motive power.

Research is currently being carried on in many quarters with the aim of developing new power plants. He said that the gas turbine locomotive, when perfected, might prove superior to the diesel in selected classes of service, and that it would likely show to best advantage under Canadian winter conditions, for its power output increases greatly at low temperatures.

Gordon said the railroad, Judge Fines Chicago Motorist $5,349

CHICAGO (CP)—A motorist who ignored traffic summonses and eluded police for more than a year was fined $5,349 here Wednesday by municipal judge Joseph Butler who said the penalty is the heaviest ever imposed for traffic offences in the United States.

Jerry Leverson, alias L. J. Borwen, 27, was fined for 71 violations, most of them speeding.

STENO WINS $100 CROSSWORD CONTEST

There was one winner in nearly 5,000 entries to last week's Times crossword puzzle contest.

Government stenographer, Ida E. Crews, 1016 Richardson, had all of the blanks filled in correctly to take the $100 prize money. Being a regular subscriber, she receives the full amount.

Biggest "stickler" in the latest puzzle was the missing word in "the world wouldn't be the same without —." The word "sun" was the popular choice when it should have been "sin."

Puzzle No. 24 will appear Friday. Complete answer to No. 23 can be found today on page 20.

PW Exchange Ends Sunday

Six More Canadians Returned
From Prison Camps of North Korea

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists and the United Nations command today agreed to complete the prisoner exchange by Sunday.

The Communists at a meeting of the repatriation commission said that if for some reason they are unable to meet the Sunday deadline they will notify the UN command before noon Saturday.

Maj.-Gen. William Dean, the highest ranking Allied captive in Red hands, now is at nearby Kaesong and it is believed he will be the last prisoner exchanged.

PANMUNJOM, Korea (BUP)—Six Canadian soldiers returned today from the hell camps of North Korea to complete repatriation of the 18 men listed prisoners by the 25th Brigade.

Fifteen Canadians remained on the missing-in-action list. There was no indication from the Communists that any of these were being held prisoner, although the exchange program still had three days to go.

All six Canucks freed today appeared healthy and in good spirits. They jumped from the Russian trucks bringing them to Panmunjom and eagerly answered the roll call.

"You bet I'm here," shouted Cpl. John Jollymore of Toronto, a prisoner since October.

Liberated with him were Capt. Joseph Liston of Ottawa, the highest-ranking Canadian prisoner; L.-Cpl. William Bell and L.-Cpl. Robert Eakins of Toronto; L.-Cpl. Gerald McKinney of Melita, Man., and Pte. Thomas Allan of Montreal.

They brought to 30 the number of Canadians set free since the exchange program began 30 days ago although the Reds said at the outset they held only 14. Twelve of the 30 previously had been listed as missing.

Two other Canadians, L.-Cpl. Paul Dugal of Quebec City and Pte. William Allan Baker of Montreal, were freed last spring in "Operation Little Switch," the repatriation of sick and wounded prisoners.

1,000 U.S. Planes
Off Production List

WASHINGTON (UP)—Air force sources disclosed today that 900 to 1,000 airplanes have been ordered eliminated from current production plans.

About 75 per cent of the planes to be eliminated are fighters and bombers to have been delivered about two years hence.

Pentagon sources estimated the cutback will save $700,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

CCF Leader Raises Campaign Fund Issue

Allegations of contravention of the Elections Act in handling campaign funds brought demands today from CCF Leader Arnold Webster and Stan Wilcox, a vice-president of the Social Credit Association of Vancouver-Burrard, that Health Minister Eric Martin resign his seat in the Legislature.

Mr. Martin has said he will not resign.

"This is a very silly bit of business," he said.

Mr. Wilcox said Mr. Martin's resignation would be in the best interests of the movement and Mr. Martin.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett refused to comment.

The B.C. Social Credit League board of directors is slated to consider a demand that Archie Waugh, Martin's official agent, be expelled from the league.

The expulsion demand was made by the executive of the Burrard Association as a result of allegations by Mr. Wilcox that Mr. Martin's campaign funds had been handled in a manner that contravened the B.C. Elections Act.

League president John Perdue has said he will support the recommendation, as a result of evidence presented to him by Mr. Wilcox and the association.

The association investigated the situation after Mr. Wilcox's charges and his threat to file an election petition to upset Mr. Martin's election.

Mr. Wilcox postponed his action during the federal election to "campaign on behalf of Peer Paynter."

The board of directors of the B.C. Social Credit League will meet Sept. 10 to consider the issue.

Dynamite Charge
Found on CPR
Kootenay Tracks

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A charge of dynamite, fused and ready to explode, was found on a Canadian Pacific Railway track near here Wednesday—less than half an hour before a freight train was due over the spot.

John Stenoki, section foreman, said he found the explosive near Tarrys, a siding 18 miles southwest of this Kootenay valley city.

He said it "appeared to have been placed there that morning."

RCMP officials here said the bomb was similar in make to those used in the past by fanatical Doukhobor fire-raisers.

1,000 Red Hoods Battle German Police

Riots Develop
In Mass Arrests

From CP. UP Dispatches

BONN, Germany—A riotous mob of 1,000 Communists hoodlums sent into West Germany under orders to sabotage next Sunday's important parliamentary elections, battled West German police today at the iron-curtain frontier city of Helmstedt.

The fighting developed as West German border guards made mass arrests of the Red agitators who were attempting to cross by the thousands all along the frontier.

A senior police official said thousands of Communists sent here to disrupt the election had been given instructions to pick up the forged ballots at assembly points deep inside West Germany.

Arrests of the sabotage-bent thugs from the Soviet zone rose to 8,000 today as 4,000,000 West German youths girded to battle the Communist invaders.

A spokesman for the Bonn government announced Wednesday night that two big youth organizations have volunteered to help combat what he said was a Kremlin plot to sabotage the balloting by creating chaos.

The two volunteer groups are the Federal Youth League and the German Sport Association.

Despite tight frontier checks, mass arrests and an emergency police alert throughout West Germany, thousands of the Red agents were believed to have evaded the police blocks.

The chief target of the Communists, from Moscow down through the ranks, is the Christian Democrat regime of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and its policy of co-operating with the West to build up military defenses against possible Communist aggression.

Irish Gold Dust Twins Refuse to Quit

Bumped, battered, bruised and bloody, Whitey Severson and Archie Browning, two of the gamest athletes ever to play for a local team, led Victoria Shamrocks to a thrilling 14-11 victory over Vancouver Pilseners Wednesday night in the third game of the Inter-city Lacrosse League finals. Checked unmercifully by the Pils Severson was forced to don a protective helmet after his nose was broken in the third period. Browning is seen here after he scored his third goal of the game and then collapsed in a heap from complete exhaustion and the pummeling given him by his checks. Ignoring the pain of his nose, a jubilant Severson leans over his buddy with congratulations. (Times photo by Bill Halkett. See sports page for story, additional pictures.)

Cost Revision Stalls Harbor Float Plans

Ottawa Won't Pass
$5,000 Proposition

A yacht float for the Inner Harbor built to "log float" standards of the federal works department would cost an additional $7,679 beyond $5,000 already allotted by the city of Victoria, Cyril Jones, city engineer, said Wednesday.

He presented a report to City Council's public works committee following queries from the Chamber of Commerce on the status regarding the float for which $5,000 was allotted by the city in June, 1952.

Mr. Jones said his department's original lightweight float proposal to cost $4,712, was not approved by the federal public works department.

Alternative plans range from $5,808 to $13,763. Partial "schemes" were outlined at total costs of $5,808 and $6,949 and full schemes at $11,928 and $13,763.

A further meeting, with Chamber of Commerce representatives in attendance, will be held on the subject.

Mr. Jones said it had been hoped the federal government would give financial aid for the float, but this was not forthcoming.

Old Back Injury Puts Actor Flynn to Bed

VENICE, Italy (UP)—An old back injury sent swashbuckling movie actor Errol Flynn to bed today in his suite in the sumptuous Lido hotel The Excelsior.

Flynn called a doctor to his bedside at 2 a.m. when his back twinges made sleep impossible.

The physician, Dr. Guido Gassone, sped to Flynn's relief in a motorboat along the canals of Venice. There were rumors that Flynn was critically ill.

"Flynn is not in danger," Dr. Gassone said today.

MAXIMUM MERRIMENT

Joy Abounds for 6 Canadian Families

News That Canuck War Prisoners Are Coming Home Relieves Worried Parents and Families

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

A Communist lie caused maximum merriment today in six Canadian homes.

A month ago, the Reds in Korea said they held 14 Canadian prisoners but proceeded to free 24 in the repatriation program called "Operation Big Switch." Six more Canucks passed through freedom gates today, adding to the lie and simultaneously bringing joy to the families at home.

"I'm glad they're liars," cried the wife of Capt. Joseph Liston, of Ottawa, when told her husband had been liberated. Capt. Liston, 34, a member of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, was this country's highest-ranking prisoner in Korea. He was captured two weeks after he went into action in July, 1952.

"I've never been so happy about liars in my life," Mrs. Liston said. "It means Tim's got a daddy after all." Tim, the captain's second son, was born in December, five months after he was taken prisoner.

The Listons have two other children, Jane, four, and Terry, two. Hiram Bell of Toronto was alone when told his son, L.-Cpl. William Bell, had been freed. And there was a heart-breaking reason for his solitude.

"I haven't been out for 30 nights listening to the news broadcasts for the word that Bill was free," Bell said.

"I have been listening alone lately, however, because Bill's mother died June 23. I think this waiting and not knowing helped kill her," the father added.

Pte. Bell went overseas last summer and was captured in October.

The real blow was when the government cut off his allowance," Bell added. "It wasn't that we needed it at all, but his mother felt that as long as it came, he was alive. When they cut it off she thought they must know more than they were telling."

Mrs. Jean Jollymore, mother of Cpl. John Jollymore of Toronto, said "Nobody knows what it's like to wait for word."

Mrs. Eakins, with Billy and their two other children moved just four weeks ago from her mother's home to get a larger place for herself and the children "and for Bob when he gets home."

"I knew it couldn't be long. I always knew he'd be back. A neighbor rushed to the home of Mrs. Jean Allan of Montreal to tell her the good news that her son, Pte. Thomas Allan Jr., was among those freed."

"I knew Tom was a prisoner and I knew he was safe and would come home one day," Mrs. Allan said. "Yes, it was a long wait but it was worth it."

Pte. Allan enlisted in the army in August, 1950, and was captured in October, 1952. Mrs. Allan said she received the first news from her son that he was "all right" in a Communist prison camp last July 5.

Thomas Allan, the private's father, said Tom's eight sisters and four brothers would plan the homecoming party.

Dolmage Hired To Probe Slide On Hydro Site

Power Commission
Calls in Expert

Dr. Victor Dolmage, B.C. geologist, has been hired by the B.C. Power Commission to investigate the cause of landslides which wrecked the Whatshan power project on Lower Arrow Lake two weeks ago.

He will assist H. G. Acres & Company Ltd., hydraulic engineers, who are already on the job probing circumstances which may have led to the slides, and estimating costs of repairs and protective measures.

The announcement of Dr. Dolmage's appointment was made by the commission today.

The commission also said it now appears the monetary damage to the plant, originally estimated at several hundred thousand dollars, is much less than "might be gathered from outward appearances."

"The heavy machinery—turbines and generators—are located in the lower two stories of the powerhouse and withstood the slide," it was stated.

Meantime, General Construction Company Ltd. has moved in a mechanical shovel, bulldozers, compressors and other earth-moving equipment.

This company has been commissioned to work 20 hours per day to get the site cleared of debris and to carry out certain repairs to the top story of the power house.

New Tremors, Storms Hit Greek Islands

PATRAS, Greece (Reuters)—Fresh rain storms and new tremors today hit the earthquake-battered Ionian islands off the west coast of Greece. A storm last week swept away huts and shelters built by earthquake victims at Argostoli, on the devastated Greek island of Cephalonia. New tremors today shook the crumbling ruins in Arostoli and Zakynthos, piling up new heaps of rubble.

DULLES BLASTS PARTITION OF GERMANY

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles today denounced continued partition of Germany as "a scandal" and "a crime" and said Russia is solely to blame.

In a statement, Dulles called on Russia to attend a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting, as proposed by the West, Oct. 15, to discuss the deadlocked German and Austrian problems.

Dulles' statement was given reporters at a press conference during which the secretary declared that failure of the West German people to re-elect Adenauer's coalition would have a very disastrous effect on prospect for German unification.

It was the strongest public endorsement of Adenauer yet voiced by any top-rank American government official.

Three Self-Propelled Diesel Cars on Order By CPR

MONTREAL—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has ordered four all-steel, self-propelled rail diesel cars from the Budd Co. for three separate operations in eastern Canada. N. R. Crump, vice-president of the company, announced today.

The air-conditioned cars, equipped with wide picture windows and bright cheerful interiors, have the comfort and smooth-riding qualities of a streamlined train, Crump said, and with their ability for rapid acceleration and deceleration they have proved to be a popular alternative to other forms of transportation.

The CPR order for the cars, first to be made by any Canadian railway, followed extensive studies and a successful trial operation of a demonstrator car on the Laurentian Mountain run between Montreal and Mont Laurier last February which proved highly popular with travelers. Three of the cars are RDC-1's seating 89 passengers and the other car, an RDC-3, will have a 32-foot head

'Let Me Push, Daddy'

PROF'S GOWN GOES WITH TOWN

College Lecturer Happy With Music Hobby Here

The "town and the gown" seem to meet on happy ground in Victoria, Gordon L. Tracy, 28-year-old new instructor of German at Victoria College, said Wednesday in an interview.

In Victoria for several weeks, during which he and his wife both played in the Victoria Symphony summer concerts at Butchart's Gardens, acquired a house at 1709 McRae Avenue and started to put in a lawn. Mr. Tracy is looking forward to his duties at the college.

"The town and the gown seem to jibe here," he laughed.

Mr. Tracy comes to Victoria from Grinnell College, Iowa, where he taught for a year. Prior to that he taught German language and literature at Wisconsin University where he received his MA.

WINNIPEG-BORN
A native of Winnipeg, Mr. Tracy attended Queens University at Kingston, where his father, Prof. Hermann Tracy, is with the classics department.

UN Secretary Declines to Reinstate Four

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has rejected recommendations of the United Nations administrative tribunal and declined to reinstate four Americans dismissed from UN jobs on loyalty grounds.

His action was immediately hailed as "in line with the thinking and feeling of the American people," by Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), a member of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

Hammarskjöld announced Wednesday night that "I have come to the conclusion, on the basis of my authority under the statute of the tribunal, not to reinstate the persons concerned."

In explanation he said only that reinstatement "would be inadvisable from the points of view which it is my duty to take into consideration."

The four employees refused reinstatement by Hammarskjöld were Ruth Crawford, $9,000 a year information officer; Mrs. Dorothy Hope Tisdale Eldridge, statistical expert; Eda Glaser, clerk-typist; and Alexander Svenchansky, radio division information officer.

He graduated with a major in French and German and spent a year at Strasbourg on a French government scholarship. He served with the RCAF for four years, chiefly as an interpreter. He went overseas early in 1945 to Celle, near Hanover, where he did military court work.

"Sometimes it was quite tense with rapid fire questioning but on the whole it was routine work," he recalls.

MUSICAL INTERESTS
Both Mr. and Mrs. Tracy are interested in music. He plays the violin, she the cello. "I had to audition for the symphony but Betty didn't," said the youthful instructor. "She played for Hans Gruber in Toronto."

Mrs. Tracy, a native of La Crosse, Alta., and former school teacher has her ATCM. She was playing in the University of Toronto orchestra when Mr. Gruber appeared as guest conductor at a concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy have two children, Ann, 4, and Arthur Hermann, 1½.

Mr. Tracy plans to work on his thesis for his doctorate this year.

Carlsen Says He Knew Nothing of Enterprise Money

SINGAPORE, Malaya (UP)—Captain Kurt Carlsen said today on arrival here he knew nothing of bank notes reported rescued from the wreck of his sunken ship Flying Enterprise or of the salvage operations.

"It's news to me," Carlsen said after reading newspaper clippings. "I can't understand what you people are trying to make out of this."

(Dispatches from London and Brussels have disclosed that bank notes salvaged from the bulk of Carlsen's Flying Enterprise off southwest England were carried as mail in sacks, and that there was no reason Carlsen or the Isbrandtsen Company should have known of them.)

HAIL BIG AS EGGS
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP)—Hailstones as large as pigeon eggs pelted Buenos Aires Wednesday in a storm that turned the sky black and forced lights to be turned on in offices and shops before noon.

Record 14,000 Enrollment For Schools

New Construction Near Completion As Bells Toll End of Holidays

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

The call of the wild will give way to bells, books and alarm clocks for 14,000 Greater Victoria school children who head into another year of lessons Tuesday morning.

The districts' 36 public elementary junior and high schools are "ready and waiting" for the onslaught of 1,000 more students this year than last.

The teaching staff of 500, an increase of 38 over last year, has been appointed.

Work on additional classrooms, renovation and conversions due to be ready for school opening, has been "virtually completed," according to J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools.

He announced today times for students to appear at schools on Sept. 8.

In junior high schools all Grade 7 students are to report at 9 a.m.; Grade 8 students at 10 and Grade 9 (in Junior High Schools only) at 11.

In Senior High Schools, the Grade 9 pupils will report at 9 a.m.; the Grade 10's at 10 and Grades 11 and 12 pupils at 11 a.m.

All elementary school students will report at 9 a.m.

SHORT WORK DAY
Following greetings from teachers and an outline of necessary equipment, students will be released while staff meetings will take up the rest of the day.

The new Macdonald Primary School for Grades 1 to 4, inclusive, in James Bay will be ready for Sept. 8.

Remodelling of Mount Douglas High is expected to be completed but finishing date for addition of three classrooms and an auditorium will be toward the end of the year, Mr. English said.

One-room classroom units have been built at Craigflower, McKenzie Avenue and Tillicum schools; four classrooms in the old Oak Bay High School.

Added classroom accommodation has been provided through conversions of auditoriums and basement play rooms in the following schools:

Cloverdale, Doncaster, George Jay, Lampson, Margaret Jenkins, Oaklands, Quadra, Sir James Douglas, Tolmie, Victoria West, View Royal and Willows. There are 28 elementary, three junior high and five high schools in Greater Victoria district.

U.S. Cancels Cut In Army Manpower

WASHINGTON (UP)—The defense department has cancelled a scheduled cut in army manpower and will continue drafting men at about the present rate until stable peace is achieved in Korea, it was learned today.

A high Pentagon official said the administration has decided it would be foolhardy to weaken the U.S. military position in the Far East simply because a truce has been signed.

Where We Stand

MR. GILBERT JACKSON, ONE of the ablest economists in Canada, has completed a study of wages and prices in the last four decades. He finds that between 1913 and 1952 the money wages of Canadian workers have increased on average by 380 per cent, per manhour of work.

But this does not mean that the worker is nearly four times as well off as he was before the first war. In this period prices have risen also until, says Mr. Jackson, $2.37 is now required to buy what $1 would have bought in Canada 40 years ago.

Thus the real wages of the worker, his actual purchasing power as distinguished from his money wages, have risen by 102 per cent. He is twice as well off as he was in 1913, despite the inflation which has cut all fixed savings in half and grievously injured many helpless people.

The rise in real wages has maintained an average rate of 1.95 per cent per year throughout these four decades. At first glance this may seem to be a small figure. By all recorded experience throughout the world it is extremely high. A national economy which can improve its production and consumption of goods at this rate is doing well. In fact, Canada has done better than any country in the world, except the United States.

"The nation whose workers could achieve and sustain an increase in real hourly wages at this annual rate," Mr. Jackson says, "would increase nearly sevenfold, in the course of a century, the volume of goods and services which an individual worker might obtain by means of one hour's work. At this rate of increase one hour's work might conceivably, by the middle of the next century, be the means of obtaining, on average, as much of the good things of life as is now being obtained on an average by means of an entire day's labor."

Yes, but all this assumes that we can continue to increase our output per manhour of work as we have done in the last forty years. It is the production of goods, not the amount of money he receives, that will fix the worker's living standard, simply because he cannot consume goods he does not produce. If money wages are increased faster than goods the worker will be no better off. Increased prices will automatically cancel out increased wages. And if wages are to go on increasing much faster than goods, as they have done since the war, then assuredly, says Mr. Jackson, we are in for another round of inflation and another debasement of savings.

"It may be thought," Mr. Jackson says, "that a 6 per cent increase in the retail cost of living is quite a small price to pay for avoidance of large-scale disputes about wage rates between employers and employees, during the twelve-month period in which the cost of living is thus driven upward. But a regular diet of this kind, for five years, would increase the cost of living no less than one-third. In twelve years it would double our cost of living. If twelve years hence (that is in 1965) because of the continuance of such thinking we Canadians find our cost of living doubled we need then blame nobody but ourselves."

Chiefly we must blame ourselves for not distinguishing between real and money wages, between actual goods and an inedible piece of paper.

The City Manager's Salary

THERE SHOULD BE NO ARGUMENT over the city finance committee's recommendation to increase the city manager's salary. As the chief administrative officer of a multi-million-dollar-a-year business, he is in a position to save or lose for Victoria many times the amount he is paid.

The question alone which should be weighed is whether or not he is doing an efficient job. If he is, he is worth every cent of the higher salary. If he is not, then his services should be terminated.

Testimony from the mayor and other aldermen, shows the city manager is performing his duties to their satisfaction.

Failing justifiable complaint, the officer should receive recognition for what he has already accomplished. The mayor, himself skeptical early in his term, now expresses complete confidence in the manager. He cites savings that have been accomplished and praises the official's work in general.

Probably the best basis for comparison on the city manager's salary can be drawn from the emolument provided men who hold similar positions in a several-million-dollar-a-year private business, and with the salaries paid to other city managers.

At the expiration of his first contract and now that his work may be studied, the council committee rightly recommends that he receive an increase.

Sound Warning From the Court

THE WORDS OF MAGISTRATE Henry C. Hall to a juvenile driver in city police court should be taken to heart by all parents who permit their children to operate automobiles.

The youth admitted he had driven a car without being covered by the third-party financial responsibility protection which is mandatory for drivers under 21.

For that offense he was fined $35, which could be a cheap fee if he takes to heart the magistrate's counselling: "If you get into an accident without being covered by financial liability insurance you're liable to get a judgment against you that will hurt you for the rest of your life; a $10,000 judgment is not unusual."

The importance of that warning is emphasized by the fact that almost one-third of the drivers in B.C. to whom the provincial motor vehicles branch has to send warning letters are between the ages of 15 and 20. In other words, that class is one of the most dangerous on the road.

Unless the juvenile can afford to pay the required costs of protection, he cannot afford to risk driving at all. As the magistrate has pointed out, the crippling effect of a $10,000 judgment against a person not yet adult—or against his parents—is too serious a possibility to be countenanced.

The Great Coffee Conspiracy

SOMEONE, cursed by too much candor and honesty (always dangerous in an age of this sort) is always spoiling my theories. Like all the best theories, mine seldom stand up to examination, which puts me in the company of the best minds of the world.

I am referring here to my Coffee Theory, which has been given a good deal of merited publicity in various parts of the nation. As originally adumbrated here, my Coffee Theory was complex and mysterious, like all the better theories. To put the thing simply enough for the intelligence of the ordinary reader, I held that the tolling masses of Canada do not stop in the middle of the morning to drink coffee. They stop to think.

The so-called labor of office hours, I argued (with great force, I thought) are mere play and recreation. The real work is done when the workers assemble over their coffee and get down to business.

NOW, a stranger might not understand these things, because he is not supposed to understand and every precaution is taken to baffle and confuse him. Thus when a non-coffee-drinker like myself drops into a coffee bar in mid-morning for rest and recreation he sees his colleagues hunched over their cups and apparently discussing the baseball scores or the horse races. This, of course, is all part of the great deception.

The coffee drinkers, who manage our society, who make all its great decisions in morning conference and return to the office to go through the meaningless motions of work—this priestcraft and ruling class never admits strangers. Before outsiders like myself it deliberately talks of small matters to deceive us, and as soon as our backs are turned, it resumes its labors of thought.

THOSE labors are so deep, onerous and painful that the priestcraft comes back to the office quite limp and exhausted, just in time to knock off for lunch. But let no one think that this system is inefficient or wasteful. On the contrary, the more time spent over coffee, the more real work accomplished; the proof of which is the fact that our national prosperity has risen in exact proportion to the consumption of coffee and the time used in consuming it. However, there is a danger in this very efficiency which is seldom suspected. I mean the danger of revolution.

The coffee drinkers undoubtedly control the world. They have concentrated the management of the whole economy in a shiny cup. They have distilled society through a percolator. They have built an unlimited tyranny out of a humble bean from Brazil. And in its grip the rest of us, the surviving non-coffee-drinkers, are powerless. It is my considered judgment that the worms will turn one of these days, as they always do, the cup will break, the percolator will explode and the bean will lose its magic.

THAT, in non-technical language for the layman, is my Coffee Theory. Just as it is establishing itself and attracting supporters, along comes my colleague and former friend, Mr. Arthur Stott, and tries to demolish it at a gulp.

Mr. Stott, you understand, is one of the elect. He is a coffee drinker. He belonged to the inner circle of the priestcraft and has progressed so far in these mysteries that he is actually beginning to complain in print about the coffee served in restaurants... as if the coffee were of any importance when, in fact, it is only the outward ceremonial designed to disguise the deadly work of the drinkers.

Anyway, Mr. Stott, speaking for the priestcraft, remarks in his sleek official way that he and his fellow practitioners slip out of the office in the morning to get away briefly from their work. If this were true then the Coffee Theory would collapse at once and I would be discredited (even more than ever) from one end of the country to the other. If this were true, then the economy of the nation would slowly or rapidly collapse as more and more time was wasted by the workers in their cups.

AH yes, but of course it is not true. It is just another ruse in the conspiracy of the priestcraft. Less talented deceivers would admit that they did all their important work during the morning and afternoon coffee hours. They would claim their absence from the office as a virtue, which indeed it is. In short, they would tell the truth. But not these practised dictators.

They mask their power, they flatter their slaves, they divert public attention from the facts by pretending to enjoy their coffee and to hate their work.

Even the courts are deceived. The Ontario courts have recently made a feeble attack on the coffee conspiracy by ruling that a man injured in the morning coffee hour is not entitled to workmen's compensation. As if that would make any difference! As if the men who manage our society by a secret government and a mystic language will pay any attention to the courts! No, the ruled will remain in their offices and the rulers will remain in their cups.

Up-Island Comment

BOOKS AND WHERE
(Cowichan Leader)

It is a very likeable suggestion that the B.C. Department of Trade and Industry is making to our visitors. Co-operating with the Vancouver and Mainland Branch of the Canadian Authors' Association the department has published a pamphlet setting out some of the many books on this province, fictional and non-fictional.

One novel feature about their advertising, in the form of a folder, is a large map of B.C. with the titles of nearly 20 books superimposed, according to the particular regions of the province with which the various works deal.

PARK POVERTY
(Ladysmith Chronicle)

The season for civic projects is just about over, and the rudiments of Baden Powell Park are still very rudimentary.

Mention of this as a park area brings to attention the limitations of Ladysmith where public parks and fields are concerned. The Market Square playground for small children is not nearly as attractive or comfortable as it could be, and all that is needed is the provision of some shade trees and green grass.

Some day it may be possible to acquire a nearby park area with beach frontage so that local citizens may enjoy beach lounging without feeling like trespassers, but there is no definite hope or assurance of this for the present.

RAZING QUESTIONS
(Nanaimo Free Press)

A letter from a subscriber who takes issue with the government's apparent decision to raze the Nanaimo post office building brings up some questions that may be worthy of consideration by the department at Ottawa if they have not already been examined.

The Free Press subscriber asks the following questions:

"Is the present site of the post office the best possible location for the new federal building from the point of view of traffic congestion?"

"Would not some place on Wallace street, somewhere between the city hall and Fitzwilliam street, be better, in that the front would be on Wallace and the rear on Terminal avenue?"

"Would the present building, if allowed to stand, be suitable for a library and museum, or would it be suitable accommodation for the local detachment of the RCMP?"

"Has expert and independent advice been sought in determining the best location for this new building?"

CATCH THEM YOUNG
(Twin Cities Times)

It's a smart move on the part of Jaycees of this district bringing the bicycle crowd into their traffic safety campaign.

Youngsters will learn on Cycle Safety Night the value of keeping their bikes in good mechanical condition and will be impressed by the importance of observing highway regulations.

We hope to see this event observed periodically so that the Jaycees will bring into the scheme all those children who set out on their first bikes to become a part of the traffic on our roads.

MOVE TO UNIFIED SERVICE?
(Courtenay-Comox Argus)

Negotiations have commenced between the city of Courtenay and the village commissioners of Comox for an adequate water supply for the village.

This might be the first step in the creation of a greater water board for the whole area of Courtenay, Royston and Comox and possibly Cumberland.

Ottawa Vacations

Changing Names

ONE of my readers, in an interesting letter which contains his views of many varied topics, has included an intriguing suggestion about name-changing. He says, in part:

"The recent regrettable tragedy involving a young naval cadet has brought to my mind one of my pet notions about name-changing."

Nancy

"I have often wondered if it would be of advantage to all concerned, if people with long foreign names were asked to Anglicize their names after becoming Canadian citizens. The name of the young cadet was WSZYEBOROWSKI, and here is even another name in the news even longer, ANDRUSZAKIEWICZ. I have noticed a terrible lot of long names in the foreign settlements in Winnipeg."

"When you stop and consider that the usual person has to sign her or his name several times a day, it would be a great time saver if nothing else were they shortened. The procession starts when we start school. The teacher puts our name on the register, on the report cards, etc., and by the time we reach the adult stage there are countless other forms to be signed—income tax, health insurance, etc., and our dollar bills, if we are fortunate enough to possess any, are signed by the governor of the Bank of Canada."

"Can you visualize one of our promising emigrants, or is it immigrants, reaching the high estate of governor of the Bank of Canada and having a name like ANDRUSZAKIEWICZ? We should need a dollar bill a yard long for him to have room to put his name on. It should not be too difficult to choose a shorter name which would sound something like their old name."

The writer of the letter also acknowledges one thing which I would point out—that while some foreign names are long, there are others of British-Canadian stock which are just as unwieldy even if they are more pronounceable to us. Take the hyphenated, such as Cholmondeley-Cutbush, or even some of the cumbersome ones that you can find in our own Island telephone books.

Yet I feel sure that the holders of those names would be highly indignant if anyone suggested shortening them or substituting a commoner name. So it may well be that many of our Canadian citizens of foreign extraction are as justifiably proud and fond of their family names as the scions of the Montmorency-Plushbottom clan.

On the other hand, if you study the British Columbia Gazette over a period of years, you will find that many a possessor of a foreign name sounding to our unaccustomed ears rather like a sneeze applies for official permission to Anglicize it. Thus Petrovskitchsky may well become Peterson. But from that same source I have discovered that other reasons often lie behind name-changing.

Numerology is often at the back of less obvious motives for changing one's name, it seems. I know little about this so-called science beyond the fact that the numerologists attribute a certain significance to the letters of the alphabet, such numbers as 11 and 22, for instance, having mystic qualities.

But that explains why, for instance, when John Henry Smith or Mary Ann Brown find that their names aren't vibrating harmoniously with their personalities, causing things to go awry, they decide to become Theophilus Harris Blimp or Esmerelda Maude Ecstasy—thus attaining a sense of perfect attunement with the universe.

FROM NEW YORK

By WALTER LIPPMAN

Outsider on Atomic Policy

WE know that the president is considering the advice to make public more information about atomic weapons.

Yet the general public can never be allowed to know, as a matter of fact will never be allowed to know, so much as the quite considerable number of scientists, military men, and high civilian officials who have access to all the information there is.

In what sense, then, will a public with a little knowledge be capable of passing judgment on the critical military issues which have not yet been decided by those with all the knowledge?

The practical conclusion which I draw from this is that the basic decisions must be made by the president and his advisers; if new information is to be published, it will have to be evidence in support of the decisions which have already been reached. What is most certainly not needed is a campaign, purporting to be educational but in fact propaganda, designed to heat up and to excite the public. This is a matter which cannot be dealt with by public debate. It is a matter for responsible leadership drawing its strength from the confidence of the nation.

One kind of information about atomic weapons can never be published in a form which would permit anyone, now ignorant of it, to make a responsible decision. Why do I say never? Because that kind of information is not scientific information at all. It has nothing to do with nuclear physics or with engineering. It has to do with military intelligence and with the flexible strategy and tactics based on that intelligence.

Information of this kind, dealing with the varying and variable relations of targets, routes, bases, planes, bombs and other missiles, can never be published. For once published, the adversary can take measures which may convert into false information what may—before he knew it—have been true information. Or, if it is false information, it enables him to take advantage of what he will then know to be faulty intelligence work.

* Is there, we are bound to ask, any firm ground amidst all this secrecy and complexity upon which a public policy can be based? On the immediate practical question of "defense" and "offense," now being debated, there is, I believe, a firm ground of principle. If we assume that both the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. will fairly soon be capable of a devastating atomic offensive, what is the best defense?

It is to construct, parallel with the strategic air force, another great military establishment dedicated to a passive defense against the Soviet strategic air force? That might seem like the necessary and the right thing to do except that the cost is so high and the prospect of a really adequate passive defense so poor.

The other conception of defense is to concentrate the money, the efforts, and the weapons available for passive defense on protecting the strategic air force itself—first its forces in being and then its source of supply. On this view, if the adversary cannot knock out the strategic air force, he will never dare to attack the industrial cities. The target of an atomic Pearl Harbor would have to be, not Detroit, New York or Washington, but the strategic air force itself. To attack the cities while the air force was capable of striking would be military lunacy.

Since, as a matter of fact, it is impossible to defend passively the whole of the continental United States with anything approaching certainty, much less to defend passively our allies in Western Europe, the true defense lies necessarily in the capacity to deter attack—which means to possess an offensive power that the adversary must respect and which he cannot destroy.

IN HOLLYWOOD

By JAMES BACON

3-D Throws Actress

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Patricia Medina, one of Britain's loveliest lovelies to the United States, is one actress who doesn't care if she ever makes another 3-D movie.

"I'm through with 3-D," she asserts. "Or rather, I should say that 3-D is through with me."

"My aim is too poor," she explains. "Much has been written about 3-D but always from the audience point of view, the discomfort of glasses and the continual ducking. Now comes Miss Medina with the first complaint, to my knowledge, from the players' side."

Patricia's last try at 3-D was at Columbia where she worked for producer Sam Katzman in "Drums of Tahiti." Katzman is a great gimmick man and it followed that his 3-D picture would be loaded with gimmicks. "One of them called for Pat to pick up a cold cream jar and hurl it toward the camera, ultimately to splatter over bespectacled audiences."

"I spent the whole day grabbing that jar and throwing it. I failed miserably. Finally, the director said to skip it until the end of the picture."

"Here I was, an actress with 10 years of English and American experience behind me, winding up as a complete idiot on the set."

"It was pathetic. Some of my friends among the crew took great pains to help me. Some even cheered me on the sidelines but I was hopeless."

At the end of the shooting schedule, the director tried again.

This proved even more embarrassing to Patricia. Technicians had rigged up an elaborate cord arrangement whereby she could not possibly toss the jar out of camera range.

"This really hurt because this sort of treatment is usually reserved for child and animal actors. But even with the cord I failed. I doubt if they can salvage any of the takes for the movie."

"The director was very kind. He assured me he wasn't critical of my acting ability but hinted that I would have to improve my throwing arm if I wanted to continue in 3-D."

The experience so unnerved her that when producers Bob Fellows and John Wayne wanted her for their "Plunder of the Sun," she didn't even ask about the role.

"All I wanted to know was whether it was flat or 3-D. Thank heavens, it was a good old flatie."

COULD HEAR AN INHIBITION DROP

Kinsey Gives Ladies Chance With Question Period During Lecture

WASHINGTON (AP)—What happens when the women turn the tables and ask questions of Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey?

Just about what you'd expect—some confusion, a lot of nervous tittering and a new peek into Kinsey's soon-to-be-published "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female."

Kinsey gave the girls their chance Wednesday. He lectured at length to the women's National Press Club, using a good many words that weren't uttered in luncheon addresses until his pioneer work in male behavior appeared a few years back.

Then he called for questions. The silence was so thick you could hear an inhibition drop. Finally a lady reporter—one of a breed not noted hereabouts for timidity—broke the ice. She stood up at her table and asked in a quivering voice, how Kinsey accounted for his finding that women reach their peak of responsiveness later than men. Was it, she wondered, the result of social pressure? Or something ingrained in the female frame?

Kinsey's answer: The female's peak comes later in animals as well as in humans. But social pressure seems to delay it still further in women.

Next one of the ladies wanted to know at what age the largest percentage of women sleep without night clothes. This was not just girlish curiosity, she said. She worked for a trade paper of the garment industry, Women's Wear Daily. Her fellow members exploded with laughter when she mentioned that.

Kinsey's answer: Age doesn't seem to matter. The better-educated woman is, the more likely she is to omit nightgown or pajamas.

It was Ruth Montgomery of Texas Man Sentenced To Life Second Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Jake Tate, 33, was sentenced Wednesday to life in prison for the second time. The Houston man was given a life sentence in 1935 for killing a woman was pardoned in 1944. Wednesday he was sentenced to life for the May 11 fatal shooting of Mrs. Doretha Grigsby, 44, who was shot four times as she ate lunch in the paper firm where she worked.

He Learned You Can Believe What You Read

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Lester Penny was in police court Wednesday on a charge of smoking in bed. The fire department charged his smoking had started a blaze in a hotel room.

Asked if he knew it was against the law to smoke in bed, Penny replied:

"I'll say I do. I painted 50 signs saying it was against the law to smoke in bed. I painted them for use in hotel rooms." Sign painter Penny was fined $25.

the New York Daily News who really threw Kinsey, though. Can his statistics be accurate, she wondered, when they're based on questions some women aren't in the habit of answering for men? "Particularly," Miss Montgomery explained, "nicer women, as compared with our ah-sisters of the street."

Kinsey, poser of hundreds of thousands of questions to 5,940 women in the present survey alone, took a step backward.

IF LOOKS COULD KILL, the Vancouver Pilseners would be looking for replacements today. Shamrock trainer Dusty Mair (left), while administering aid to unconscious Whitey Severson during Wednesday's riotous lacrosse game, snarls angrily at the Pilsener player who crashed Severson heavily into the boards. Also lending a hand to the stricken player are trainer Deans Blackstock (centre) and teammate Archie Browning. Although he came out with a broken nose and numerous bruises, Severson finished the game and inspired the Rocks to a 14-11 overtime victory over Pilseners in the third game of the Intercity Lacrosse League finals. Tyees Bow to Bears, Caps Open Final Series

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Baseball's controversial position in the life of the community goes to the community tonight and every night for the balance of the week.

The Victoria Tyees have appealed for additional public support in order that they might meet the club payroll. Baseball club officials intimate that this will be the final test for the future of professional baseball in Victoria.

That, in a nutshell, is the climax to the Western International League baseball season which ends locally Saturday night.

Firstly, it is evident that baseball's position here is precarious as it is in several cities across the continent. Victoria is no exception to the rule.

What must be decided by the sporting public between now and Saturday is: Do sports fans like baseball well enough as an attraction to give it a vote of confidence?

Do sports fans appreciate the thankless efforts that have been made by a handful to keep the game alive here?

Do sports fans think baseball is good for the community and as a possible goal for the hundreds of youngsters of city and district now playing the game and the hundreds more who will be playing the game in a few years?

These are only a few of the questions, but they are indicative of the situation as it now affects the Tyees—and pro baseball.

The Players Deserve Commendation

Secondly, the club has stated that this final appeal is based on the fact that club salaries must be paid.

Speaking from personal experience, we know this is so. We sat in the club office not so long ago and witnessed a sight that would make one wonder why ballplayers love the game as much as they do.

Yakima 9, Victoria 1

Jim Clark returns to the city tonight, but it's likely that he'll be as unwelcome as were the Yakima Bears, who Wednesday night took their leave, and with it a 9-1 decision over the Tyees.

The former shortstop of the Tyees, and one of the most popular players ever to grace a Victoria uniform, visits for four games with the Vancouver Capilanos as the Tyees conclude their Western International League home stand.

Tyee officials have appealed for increased attendance in this series in order that the first club payroll may be met by Saturday night, and also as an indication that Victoria still wants professional baseball.

Objective for each of the final four games has been set at 2,000 fans. This total, say club officials, will enable the club to meet payroll commitments.

There was a big payoff at the park Wednesday night, but unfortunately for the Tyees, Ted Edmunds of Yakima Bears wielded the pen.

The former relief ace of the Salem Senators etched a three-hitter in the Bears' triumph while Bill Prior and Zeb Walker took the brunt of the 17-hit Yakima attack.

MONIZ GETS FAIR

Bob Moniz was the only Tyee able to solve Edmunds with any degree of success, getting two doubles. His first came in the third inning off the centre field fence and his second in the eighth led to the Tyees' lone run.

Moniz eventually scored on an outfield fly by Lu Brannan.

Three unearned runs put Prior in a hole by the third inning, but the Bears weren't content with any pseudo victory.

26TH HOMER

They hit safely in every inning but the sixth, climaxing their attack with a single tally in the seventh on Bob Wellman's 26th home run of the season, two in the eighth and three in the ninth.

Pils Put Master Plan Into Effect

As long as Whitey Severson and Archie Browning continue their fabulous scoring feats, Victoria Shamrocks will be at least an even bet to win the Intercity Lacrosse League finals. And no-one knows this better than Vancouver Pilseners, Rocks' opponents in the series. Pils' theory seems to be "stop Browning and Severson and you stop the Rocks." For proof: At left, Severson is seen heading for the floor, surrounded by Pilsener checkers Jack Byford (left), Fred Aspin (centre background) and helmeted Alex McKay. At right Browning, who scored three goals in Shamrocks' 14-11 victory, defensively engages in a stick duel with McKay. (Times photos by Bill Halkett.)

BROOKLYN HEADACHES

Braves Refuse To Play Dead

Brooklyn Dodgers nursed a double-barrelled headache today—Milwaukee Braves and Allie Reynolds.

The pesky Braves, who apparently refuse to believe the Dodgers are a shoo-in for the flag, are causing the immediate difficulty.

The big chief of New York Yankees poses a problem the Dodgers will have to deal with later, assuming they solve the Milwaukee trouble.

The Braves tripped the Dodgers 9-8 in Brooklyn Wednesday night, giving them a 5-5 split at Ebbets Field so far this year. No other club has come close to breaking even against the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The loss cut Brooklyn's lead to 10 games with 22 to play, three more against Milwaukee. Reynolds, regarded by many as the key to the Yankees' world-series hopes, made his third start since the end of June and pitched eight excellent innings.

CHAIN REACTION WINS

WINNIPEG (CP)—Eastern favorite Chain Reaction, under Bud Giacomelli, Wednesday won the 28th running of the $3,000-added Whittier Park Handicap, paying $4.60, $3.50 and $3.00.

Spokane Takes Lead In WIL Pennant Race

By The Canadian Press

The Spokane Indians and Lewiston Broncos square off tonight in the first game of a showdown series expected to determine the Western International Baseball League second-half championship.

Four games are on tap in the stand at Lewiston and the winner will meet Salem, the first-half champion, in the WIL postseason playoff.

Spokane has a one-game bulge over the Broncos going into the series.

The Indians regained the top berth Wednesday night when the Broncos dropped the second game of a double-header at Vancouver. Lewiston won the first game, 4-1, while Spokane was shutting out Wenatchee, 9-0.

Vancouver shaded the Broncos, 6-5, in the nightcap, however, to end their six-day reign as league kingpins.

In other games, Edmonton edged Salem, 8-7, and Tri-City took both ends of a twin bill from Calgary, 5-2 and 8-6.

Cockell Meets Italian Champ

LONDON (UP)—Heavyweight champion Don Cockell of Britain will meet Italy's heavyweight titleholder Ugo Basiletti at Leicester, Oct. 5, promoter Joe Jacobs announced today.

It will be Cockell's first bout since beating heavyweight Harry Matthews of Seattle, Wash. Basiletti has had 17 professional bouts with only two decisions against him.

Parkville in Mid-Island Series

Parkville Loggers are two games down to Duncan Athletics in their bid to capture the Mid-Island Baseball League championship.

Loggers dropped both ends of a double-header, 10-9 and 6-1, at Duncan, in their best-of-five series opener. Next games are scheduled for Parkville on September 13.

Soccer Entries Close Tonight

All team entries into the Victoria and District Football Association must be submitted at an association meeting at the British Public Schools Club tonight at 8 o'clock.

No entry will be accepted after tonight, league secretary Don Grey has announced.

GERMAN VOTE MAY DELAY REDS ANSWERING BIG THREE OFFER

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Diplomatic quarters said here today Russia is unlikely to reply to the Western invitation to a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting until after the West German elections Sunday.

These quarters expressed uncertainty about Soviet reaction to the Western call for a conference in Lugano, Switzerland, Oct. 5. But Western observers believed the Russian reply would be prepared carefully in view of the strategic timing of the invitation by the United States, Britain and France.

SCOTS LAMENT MECHANICAL BAGPIPES, ENGLISH INVENTION

LONDON (Reuters)—Englishmen have heaped the final indignity on Scotland's head—they have invented bagpipes which play all by themselves.

This contraption, which works on electricity and plugs in just like a washing machine, will give daily recitals at Britain's annual radio and television exhibit, which opened Wednesday.

Woe, woe, Caledonia. Not only does this strange beastie work, but on the admission of Scottish visitors to the show, it sounds as good and possibly better than some human pipers.

'BUT - BUT, MR. TUROFSKY'

CNE Photographer Errs, Takes Princess Over Jumps

TORONTO (BUP)—The Canadian National Exhibition's water-skiing show just missed showing a gaping hole today because a publicity photographer confused an action shot with cheesecake.

The photographer, Nat Turofsky, was asked to get a picture of water-ski jumper Jacqueline Gauthier, of Ottawa, and a still of beautiful skier Doris Pignatelli, an Italian princess in her off-hours.

Despite voluble protests from the princess and Italian officials, he commandeered a boat, towed the princess over the hurdle jumps, and went beaming back to shore with a lovely set of slides.

Life was met by frantic officials.

"You darn near killed one of the feature attractions of this show," one yelled. "That poor girl never jumped on skis before in her life."

Union Probes Death of Boy In Ont. Asylum

TORONTO (BUP)—The United Packinghouse Workers' Union promised one of its members today it would find out why his son was buried before he knew the boy had died in a mental hospital.

The union launched an investigation on behalf of Sebastian Dudziec into everything that happened from the time his 20-year-old son, Joe, was arrested until his grave was discovered.

"Somewhere along the line we will find neglect, or something worse," union international representative Lloyd Fell predicted.

David Lewis, former national secretary of the CCF party, was hired to appear as the parents' legal adviser at an inquest scheduled tentatively for September 8.

Attorney-General Dana Porter called the inquest. A separate probe was started by the department of reform institutions, which said the usual committal procedures had been neglected.

The union said police refused to let Dudziec's parents see him on five separate occasions following his arrest for going berserk and ripping off his clothes at a baseball game.

Lull in Exports Said Unavoidable

ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (BUP)—Trade Minister C. D. Howe is "reasonably confident" that Canada will be able to handle the problems arising from her current surplus of wheat.

Howe said Wednesday night in his first speech since the Aug. 10 general election that it would take "some hustling" but the government would be able to find markets for the wheat.

He painted a sober but optimistic picture of the grain trade, now plagued with mammoth surpluses as a result of last year's bumper crop and a new giant crop this year.

Howe said the current lull in exports was "awkward," coming on top of a near-record harvest.

"But so far as I can see, it is unavoidable," he added. "Canadian grain is being offered to our overseas customers in competition with wheat from all other exporting countries. I would go as far as to say that Canadian wheat is the best buy of any wheat in the world today."

RN Deserter May Be Granted Amnesty

LONDON (Reuters)—The admiralty said today that "most likely" Ivor Hughes, 35, a Welsh miner who deserted from the Royal Navy in 1941, will be granted an amnesty.

Hughes gave himself up in Vancouver because "I wanted my own name back." Since he deserted in Capetown, he said, he had been going under the name of a childhood friend, Alan Medd.

B.C. Labor Minister To Meet District TLC

Labor minister Lyle Wicks, who requested an invitation to attend a meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, will be on hand for the regular meeting of the council September 16.

Until now Mr. Wicks has failed to hold satisfactory meetings with labor groups, mainly because they have said their wishes regarding labor legislation already are known to the government.

It was decided at a meeting here Wednesday night to extend the invitation to Mr. Wicks.

The council named a committee of three to investigate conditions in beer parlors following complaints last month by John Aubrey, Retail Clerks' Union representative. On the committee with Mr. Aubrey, J. L. Misener and C. Thompson, A. P. Rayment, secretary, reported 12 B.C. organizations and members of parliament have sent him letters supporting the council's request for an investigation of price policies of B.C. petroleum companies.

He had heard from the office of the minister of justice that the council's request had been turned over to the director of combines investigations, he said.

The council discussed at length complaints that some local businesses failed to give employees three free hours on August 10 to vote in the federal election. Council passed a resolution urging that both federal and provincial governments amend election regulations so that the three-free-hour provision could be strictly enforced.

Six-Year-Olds Among 68 Riders Displaying Fine Horsemanship

A lot of the horses were a lot older than their riders, but the 68 youngsters participating in Wednesday afternoon's junior horse show at Victoria Riding and Hunt Club displayed good horsemanship, proving they had learned their riding lessons well.

The event attracted some as young as six. Oldest competitors were in their late teens. The entry list included a good number of Duncan enthusiasts.

Several hundred people turned out to witness the five-hour show, which was staged under perfect weather conditions. Riding Academy manager Don Carley, boss of the show, described it as the most successful junior show ever staged.

Attractive Patricia Jones, 16, a pony-tailed brunette, captured the senior aggregate cup. Patricia, whose address is 2180 Fair Street, has been riding two years.

Junior aggregate cup went to 13-year-old Bobby Trickett, 243 Torquay Drive, who ended the day as a painted Indian warrior, riding bare back in the fancy dress competition.

Col. H. C. Greer, judge of the show, singled out Bobby from among an assortment of clowns, Hawaiian dancers, bathing beauties, cowboys and Roman charioteers for first prize in the costume event. He held Bobby's Indian act was the most authentic of the lot.

Capt. H. U. Linkins, U.S. Navy (Ret.), was whipper-in, and Denise Yates, ring clerk. Prizes were presented by Mrs. W. H. Dunbar.

Results follow:

Event 1, riding for children between six and 10—Jean Dunbar; Doreen Yates; Marjorie McPherson.

Event 2, novice jumping—Bill Campbell; Patricia Jones; Jo Ann Aubel.

Event 3, riding—Division 1—Kathern Dangerfield; Gerald Haddon; Stephanie Linkins. Division 2—M. Dahl; Dorothy Edgewood; Valerie Lomas. Division 3—Dana Thompson; Barbara Johnston; Glenna Reyside.

Survivor of Bridge Crash Dies at 82

James McLaren Muirhead, an old-time employee of the City of Victoria and a survivor of the 1896 Point Ellice Bridge disaster, died at the Cloverly Private Hospital Wednesday. He was in his 82nd year.

Born in Victoria, Mr. Muirhead worked for the city for approximately 20 years and retired in 1936 as assistant controller. He was among the few who were saved when the Point Ellice Bridge collapsed on May 24, 1896, and took a toll of 55 lives.

He was a life member of the Victoria Columbia Lodge, AF and AM, No. 1, and a life member of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite.

He is survived by a sister, Bertha Muirhead of Victoria; a daughter, Mrs. L. J. Denton of Penikese; two sons, Richard Hamilton and James Louis of Victoria; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:15 p.m. Friday at Hayward's Funeral Chapel, with Rev. Canon George Biddle officiating. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Famous Soldier Says West Must Build Strength

The western powers are not yet strong enough in a military sense to make war too dangerous for Communism to attempt.

This is the opinion of Field Marshal Sir John Harding, chief of Britain's Imperial General Staff.

Scheduled to arrive in Victoria this afternoon, the field marshal was interviewed in Vancouver. He is making a Dominion-wide inspection of military establishments.

"What is needed, I think, is a sustained effort over a period of time to build up our forces so as to make as certain as we humanly can that the Communists won't risk war," he advised.

"Few things are certain in this world today. But one thing is sure—an atomic war would be devastating."

Sir John, once a staff college pupil of Field Marshal Montgomery, will inspect Royal Roads Joint Services College while he is in the city. He is scheduled to fly to Abbotsford, Friday before proceeding to Calgary by rail Friday night.

Sir John said one of the main objectives of his trip is to help build co-operation between the armies of the Commonwealth.

Islanders Renew Plea For West Coast Road

Government Hears New Arguments For So-Called Circle System

Beating the well-worn drums for a Jordan River-Port Renfrew West Coast road link, and a broad program of other highway construction, delegates from the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island waited on Premier Bennett and cabinet members today.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett and the heads of the two departments involved, Works Minister Gagliardi and Lands Minister Sommers, represented the government at the 3 p.m. meeting.

Resolutions regarding the Island's road system, passed by ACCVI's annual meeting at Nanaimo June 16-17, were the basis of today's discussion.

The road resolution renewed ACCVI's pleas for improvement and expansion of the Island's highway system. Suggested are completion of the Alberni-Tofino road, improvement and northward extension of Island Highway, and the development of "circle roads."

Proposed in the latter connection are a road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew and then inland to meet the Island Highway, and a road between Port Alberni and Courtenay by extending the Beaver Creek road.

DISPARITY CLAIMED

The Nanaimo meetings resolution outlining this program argued that in relation to the percentage and density of population and vehicles, Vancouver Island is not getting a fair share of provincial government road construction and expenditures. Vancouver Island has over 18 per cent of the province's people and provides a fifth of British Columbia's gas-tax revenue, but it has less than 10 per cent of all provincial roads.

NOT TIMBERLAND

Esowista Peninsula should be reserved for agriculture rather than the forest industry, Lands Minister R. E. Sommers was told by delegates.

ACCVI said the whole of the West Coast area, bounded by Tofino, Ucluelet and Kennedy Lake, which includes the peninsula, is more suited to agricultural than to perpetual timber production.

ACCVI delegates were President Hawes, Vice-President Norman Schroeder, Port Alberni (who also is acting as chairman of the road committee during the illness of Major H. Cuthbert Holmes, Victoria), Alan McLean, Campbell River; N. E. McPhee, Courtenay; H. Heath, Nanaimo; H. E. Stafford, Sayward; Jack Elliott, Jordan River, and George H. Wheaton, president, Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

RAIN PROMISES TO DAMPEN ONTARIO FOREST BLAZES

NORTH BAY, Ont. (BUP)—The air force and the elements offered 2,400 firefighters new help today in a fight against 111 forest fires which have cost Ontario $1,000,000.

As smoke-blackened rangers waited for forecast rains, the North Bay RCAF station flew 100 airmen to several danger points in the man-to-fire battle.

New thunderstorms were due to hit most high-hazard areas in the afternoon. Gusty winds which had been spreading the flames dropped to a dead calm and the rains started to flow in behind a cold front.

Two-Cent Discount on U.S. Bills May Cost Victoria Businessmen Lucrative Trade Loss

BY BRIAN NICHOLSON
Staff Reporter

A little matter of two cents is losing certain Victoria cafes, hotels, motels and shops a lot of business.

That two cents is the sum which the proprietors of these businesses have chosen, quite legally, to deduct from the American dollar.

I have just returned from a few days' visit in San Francisco with $30 American to spare. I determined to find out if I could spend that money in Victoria without converting it to Canadian currency and without sacrificing a single cent even though the Canadian dollar was at a premium.

In Montreal and Toronto—just as aware as Victoria of the value of the U.S. tourist—I had never had any trouble in disposing of American money at no loss to myself.

I was eager to see if Victoria was as anxious to please the American tourist and accept his money at par.

I regret to say I found that a considerable number of cafe, hotel, motel and shop proprietors apparently are so blinded by the superior value of the Canadian dollar that they are losing business.

It is obvious that most Canadians are delighted that after many years of the reverse their money is worth more than the American.

Their pleasure is understandable. But when the Canadian is worth only two cents more, as has been the case all summer, it seems to me rather pointless to quibble over so small a sum.

That also appears to be the feeling of the Retail Merchants Association who have a tacit understanding to accept U.S. note at par when the difference is only two cents or less.

I know now where I will be allowed full exchange for my American dollars in Victoria. U.S. tourists soon make the same discovery.

One of the main organizers of a recent convention in the Empress Hotel arrived a few days in advance of the 400 convention members—400 Americans who were going to spend quite a lot of money in approximately three days in Victoria.

The first night he was here he left the Empress—where he received full exchange for his dollars—and went for a walk round the town.

He stopped for a meal at a Yates Street cafe and was only given 98 cents for his dollar.

The next morning he told me: "I'm going to advise all the members of the convention not to go to that place or any other place where they won't accept our dollar at par."

"We're bringing a great deal of business to the city."

We are entitled to concessions especially over such a paltry sum as two cents," he added.

One or two businesses depending largely on U.S. tourists for their income are understood to be charging the Americans more than 2 per cent for their dollar.

Letters have been received by a leading Victoria travel authority complaining of being overcharged on the Mill Bay-Brentwood Ferry.

"I was charged 5 cents per dollar (25 cents for $5.00) to change a five dollar U.S. bill into Canadian money. This was done in connection with paying a $1.25 ferry bill for one automobile and two people,"—Julian Dayton, Little Rock, Arkansas.

"Price was $1.25. I had $1.25 plus .01 cent in American money. Ferry man said they charged 5 per cent exchange on our money, meaning I would need $1.25 plus .05 cents. So I had to give him a $5.00 American bill and was charged .25 cents to exchange this at 5 per cent or give up .25 cents for lack of one cent at legal rate. Left a bad taste."—T. M. Robinson, San Mateo, California.

Victoria is more dependent on the U.S. tourist trade than either Montreal or Toronto. If they can accept the U.S. dollar at par why not Victoria?

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

There is one thing to be said for Victorians. They are, by and large, extremely polite.

If there was ever any doubt of this, it has been dispelled since the installation of cigarette vending machines throughout the city.

Several observant constituents have already reported themselves as eyewitnesses to this scene:

A Victorian approaches the smoke-vender, drops in his assortment of coins, punches the proper button (punching it properly, of course, in the fullest sense of the word) and then, as he bends down to scoop up the cigarettes, says to the machine: "Thank you very much."

The least the cigarette machine people could do is install a recorded voice to say "You're welcome."

Let us now join in a chorus of the theme song of this day and age: "Come, Josephine, to the vending machine, where we'll spend our dough—all of our dough."

Bill Parker, who is aware that I suffer occasionally from a certain nose ailment, just telephoned to ask if I knew the translation of British Columbia's official motto.

"On the contrary," I said, "I don't even know B.C.'s official motto."

"As any child could tell you," he said, "it is 'Splendor Sine Occasu'."

"And the same child would tell you," he added, "the literal translation for folks such as you is 'Splendid for Sinus on All Occasions'."

A friend of mine who reads the paper with an analytical eye asked me if I had read the piece by Pete Loudon which dealt with the weekend-end shoppers from Victoria who help keep Port Angeles merchants in business.

I allowed I had.

"And did you read about the hardware merchant who said he made sales to 35 Canadians in an hour and a half?" my friend continued.

I said yes, I had read about it.

"Do you believe it?" he demanded.

Of course, I told him, if it is in the paper, then it is so.

"In that case, the merchants in Port Angeles must be a lot faster than the merchants in Victoria," he said.

"Why, I know of at least one hardware store here where they couldn't speed up enough to serve 35 Canadians in a week and a half."

Why should anybody complain because the CPR is putting on a slow boat to Vancouver?

I would say, the longer it takes to get to Vancouver, the better.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Registration at Victoria College totals 118 to date.

There are 61 men and 57 women with 86 first-year students and 32 second-year students. A total enrolment of 325, the same as last year, is anticipated.

Special fruit pickers and workers bus which left Victoria at 7:30 a.m. for Keating and West Saanich, has been withdrawn, H. C. Oldfield, president of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, said today. Pickers now must travel by regular bus over the scheduled route, he said.

Money may be raised from private sources by the Chamber of Commerce for dredging the Inner Harbor of the mud revealed at low tide, T. G. Denny of the Chamber's harbor committee indicated at a city public works meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Denny said mud was thrown up by the CPR boats with the mud banks getting higher each year. The committee was discussing the city's proposed yacht float.

A typographical error in Wednesday's Times read "LPP," initials for the Labor Progressive Party, where "LRB" for the Labor Relations Board, was intended. The story concerned a supervised strike vote of BCE office employees who decided to remain an independent union. The "LPP" had no part in the supervision of the vote.

Two University School boys have been appointed to Royal Roads Services College. They are Patrick Crofton, of Ganges, and David Cheeke, Duncan. Two other ex-students of the school are enrolled already from Victoria, Ian Kingham and Jeremy Brown, and a third, Desmond McCarter, is at Kingston.

Oak Bay's new park at Estevan and Thompson Avenues will be named for Thomas L. Lokier, of 2455 Hamlet Street, whose voluntary work at the site included erection of a gate. A plaque will be erected at the Estevan-Thompson corner bearing the inscription "Lokier Park," Oak Bay council decided Wednesday night.

Monthly meeting of the Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Cormorant Street, at 2 p.m. Friday.

Any CNR employee on a visit to the city is invited.

Victoria chapter of the Society of Industrial Cost Accountants opened its fall-winter session recently with a tour of the Moore Whittington mill.

The visitors were shown a sequence of operations from logs being fed into the mill at the booming ground to the finished lumber product.

Henry Watson, C.A., company controller, later addressed the chapter on the topic: "A Case Study of the Lumber Industry."

Coast Plodder Tells of Dangerous Trails

(This is the ninth article of a series by Times Reporter Humphrey Davy, who, with Queen's Mount West Vancouver, has just completed an exploration of the route which a Vancouver Island West Coast road may follow. Here Reporter Davy tells how he and his companion risked their necks on a river crossing hanging from a rusty hook.)

By HUMPHREY DAVY

A slow-moving, crystal-clear river barred our way along the West Coast. It was the Klanawa, the last and the largest river between Port Renfrew and Bamfield, and certainly one of the loveliest on the coast.

Pastoral looking, the glass-smooth river at its mouth suddenly narrows down to a raging and fierce torrent and pours itself into a wild and turbulent sea. Its end is violent.

To cross the river, West and I had to use a cable which stretched from bank to bank. This is not the best way to cross a river but somewhat better than swimming. Fording was impossible as the water was too deep.

A block with a hook was attached to the cable and each in turn we sat on an improvised seat and pulled ourselves to the other side. We were not too happy about the hook which we depended upon to keep us suspended in mid-air. It was nearly rusted through. I'm sure a sharp blow would have broken it. But it did the job and that is all that mattered.

While working my way across, a seal popped its head from the waters below and watched the proceedings. West said it had a wistful look as if

B.C. Can Bid On CN Ship

Gordon Promises Contract Chance

West Coast yards will be given "every encouragement" to tender on a new ship to replace Ss. Prince Rupert if the CNR decides such a replacement is necessary.

"We will lean over backwards to give this coast a chance," Donald Gordon, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways, said in an interview here today.

The big, blunt-spoken Scotsman, who heads one of the world's biggest transportation systems, warned, however, that "cost will be the final deciding factor."

A replacement for Prince Rupert is still in the "thought" stage, he said. "It's likely we'll get to serious grips with the question within a year."

Mr. Gordon expressed concern that an earthquake might cause delay in construction of the Kitimat rail line.

A 100-foot fissure was ripped open by an earth tremor Tuesday, on the route of the new Terrace-Kitimat link. "We were right on schedule up to that point," Mr. Gordon said.

However, a possible earth fault there might lead to a re-routing of the line, and men have been sent to make an on-the-spot survey.

Asked if it were true that the CPR was the "yardstick railway" in regard to setting freight rates, he explained the Board of Transport Commissioners did regard the needs of the "private enterprise railway" as one factor in making its decisions.

"Rates must be such that the CPR can maintain its obligations to its investors," he said. "However, this is far from an indication of lack of competition."

Competition in offering service, he said, was not a question of monopoly, but of sound business judgment.

"Capital costs have soared," he said. "It now costs a minimum of $100,000 a mile to build a rail-line, and costs go as high as $250,000 a mile."

Mr. Gordon describes his present trip through the west as a "whistle stop social trip." One of the main objectives is to meet CNR staff members and their wives.

Children Cherish Carved Caddy

"Sure, there's a real one," Genevieve Whale, 13, right, said when she brought the pinewood carving of Victoria's famous sea monster to the Times. "Daddy did this." Frank Whale, CP Express chief accounting clerk, believes in Caddy, too. Marlowe Boag, 11, left above, has an open mind in the matter. The Times has a standing offer of $200 for anyone able to produce a photograph of the real thing... Cadborosaurus, reportedly seen by hundreds but shy of cameras. (Times photo.)

Kinsmen Polio Fund Enough for Iron Lung

Two major donations pushed the Vic Van Isle Kinsmen Polio Fund up to $2,100 this morning... more than enough to provide a vitally needed iron lung for Royal Jubilee Hospital polio isolation ward.

The B.C. Government Employees' Association announced through secretary H. A. Carney that a cheque for $350 will be presented to the Kinsmen at their regular meeting tonight.

An anonymous donor left a cheque for $100 with fund chairman Ed Bergeron this morning.

Funds, which are still being received by Mr. Bergeron at Spencer House, will be turned over to the B.C. Polio Fund which will in turn provide the respirator and other polio treatment equipment to the hospital.

In announcing the donation, Mr. Carney stated, "There is a great need, and this organization has kept it in mind. None of us can tell when one of our members or his children will be stricken. It is the least we can do."

Meantime, health authorities report no further cases of polio and cling to the hope that this year's outbreak is nearing an end.

"There have been 44 cases locally, 55 on Vancouver Island, with two deaths recorded."

Ivan G. Denroche, secretary of the Gulf Islands Improvement bureau, said residents plan to "shop around" to find another company which would give the islands service every day.

Islanders to Meet CPR on Service Cut

Delegates to a protest meeting held at Galiano Wednesday night, to discuss cuts in Canadian Pacific Steamship service, decided to meet with CPR officials in Vancouver in an effort to stop curtailment.

The CPR has announced plans to run only one ship per week to the Gulf Islands.

Ivan G. Denroche, secretary of the Gulf Islands Improvement bureau, said residents plan to "shop around" to find another company which would give the islands service every day.

slowly running short of food as we neared the end of the trip.

Towards noon my feet for the first time began to give me trouble and walking became more difficult. I discovered a blister on my left heel about the size of an egg. This was probably due to my feet being wet ever since the start of the trip.

THINK OF YOUR FEET

While on the subject, I would like to say when you are on a trip of this sort, you think quite a lot about your feet and for the first time you begin to realize that walking is a phenomenon.

In daily life we take walking for granted, never give it a second thought. The ground on which we tread has been leveled off to make footwork easy and comfortable. But get on a trail full of snags, holes and hidden pitfalls, and you begin to marvel at the science of walking.

The eyes certainly could not pick out all the danger spots along the trail. Some factor in the brain seems to be the eye which unconsciously feels its way along. Proof of this is when your mind gets tired, you begin to stumble and trouble begins.

We were now approaching Pachena lighthouse, also important as a weather station. We looked at our map and figured out we would get to Bamfield the next morning, our journey's end.

Irate Parents Hint At School Boycott

Safe-Crossing Lanes Sought

Angry citizens of the Seven Oaks district of Saanich say they may not send their youngsters back to school Tuesday, unless they get some action to protect children along Douglas Street from McKenzie Avenue south to the Saanich fire hall.

The stretch of road, which forms part of the new Pat Bay Highway, has no crosswalks except at University Street, main thoroughfare for Mount View High School students.

Alex Hutcheson, 710 Ralph Street, said today that he and his neighbors wanted safety "stop when occupied" walks put at Ralph Street and at McKenzie Avenue. This would protect their youngsters going to McKenzie Avenue School and would help people who cross the street there to reach bus zones.

"DEATH TRAP"

The father of two children, five and eight years old, Mr. Hutcheson termed the highway a "death trap." The speed limit of 30 miles per hour is not adhered to, he charged.

"They put a crosswalk in at University for the high school children who are big enough to look after themselves but nothing for the smaller ones," he said. "It's childish."

Mr. Hutcheson pointed out he had talked to provincial engineers and to Saanich councillor Roy H. Wootton and that after three weeks of promises still nothing had been done.

"It's a case of passing the buck," he said.

Saanich engineer H. D. Dawson said that crosswalks on the provincial highway were at the discretion of the department of public works and not Saanich. Meanwhile citizens in the district are preparing a petition of the provincial government and say they will keep their youngsters out of school in an attempt to get some action.

Two Persons Hurt In Car Collision

Two persons were injured and considerable damage was done to two cars in a collision Wednesday at 6:50 p.m. at Bay and Douglas, city police reported.

Treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital emergency ward and then released were Fred M. Forster, 637 Lanford, and his passenger, Vernon Coffield, 2663 Blanshard. Forster suffered cuts and abrasions to the head and, Coffield an injured left leg.

Police said the car driven by Forster, proceeding north on Douglas and turning to go west on Bay, was in collision with a car driven south on Douglas by John R. Fleming, 132nd Street, Edmonton, staying at the Washington Motor Court, 241 Gorge Road. Fleming escaped unhurt.

CARS DAMAGED

Damage was done to cars driven by Simon F. Mellema, 129 Medina, and Claude R. Watson, Sea Drive, Brentwood, when they collided at Oswego and Michigan, Wednesday evening, city police reported. Drivers and passengers were unhurt.

TRIKE TRAFFIC TOLL: ONE TOT

Climbers Back to Earth With Bump, Broken Bones

It was children's day at Royal Jubilee emergency ward Wednesday.

Four boys and a girl, none of them over six years old, ran up a total of three fractures and eight stitches during one day of summertime frolic.

Most spectacular accident was a sidewalk "traffic" collision that sent three-year-old Michael Mills, 101 Ontario Street, to hospital. Hit by a tricycle, he suffered a fractured clavicle.

An unexpected high dive from a tree cost six-year-old Gerald Holland, 772 Island Highway a broken wrist and

GUILTY CONSCIENCE BRINGS YOUNG SAILOR INTO COURT

A guilty conscience brought a young sailor to city police court today.

William G. McKee, RCN, pleaded guilty to a charge of taking a motorcycle without the consent of the owner.

"He took this motorcycle on August 28 with the intention of going on a joyride to Nanaimo. He got as far as Duncan, ran out of gas and ditched the machine in some bushes," Detective Alex Briggs told the court.

"However, when he got back to barracks, he confessed his crime to his superior officer and told him where the bike could be found," the detective said.

The superior officer contacted city police and told them the story. The bike was recovered. Court was told that McKee had a good three-year naval record. He is a veteran of Korea.

Magistrate Hall remanded the sailor to Friday for sentence.

No Stampede to Fill Oak Bay Reeveship

Councillor Johnson Undecided; But Saanich Reeve Sure Runner

No-one has emerged immediately to run for the Oak Bay reeveship which will be relinquished by P. A. Gibbs, MLA, who announced his retirement Wednesday.

Mr. Gibbs will devote all his time to the Legislature.

Prominently mentioned as a candidate is J. V. Johnson, for 19 years an Oak Bay councillor, and brother of the former premier, Byron Johnson. But he has not given the matter serious consideration, he says.

"I don't know whether I'm interested or not," Mr. Johnson admitted. "I haven't given it any thought yet. I haven't talked to Archie (Reeve Gibbs) about it at all."

Councillors George Gregory and Fred Norris, both of whom have been mentioned as possibilities, quashed all such rumors today.

"I haven't enough experience," Councillor Gregory said. Speaking about the possibility of Mr. Johnson running, Councillor Gregory pointed out "he's had the experience and would be a good man for the job."

Councillor Norris said he hadn't heard anything about who might be going to contest the reeveship, but admitted he had "no aspirations."

Meanwhile Saanich Reeve Joseph W. Casey, now completing his second two-year term, announced he will be a candidate in the December municipal elections.

He was elected in 1949 for the first time, defeating E. C. Warren for the post.

So far no candidate has come forward to challenge Mr. Casey.

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Casey said that he wanted to see completed the $2,000,000 sewer project which was started when he was first elected reeve.

"I also started the drainage program, he said. "I want to see that through, too."

Youthful Driver in Jail Pending Payment of Fine

Young drivers with past convictions for driving offenses get no lenient treatment by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court.

In court today William E. Schultz, 20, of 1052 Mission, was fined $50, or seven days in jail, when he pleaded guilty to driving a car while not being the holder of a current year's driver's license.

Leslie J. Coulter, 521 Paradise, was fined $35, or five days in jail, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to obey the direction of a police officer on traffic control duty.

In regard to Schultz, Magistrate Dale Arthur Winney and Joseph E. Dow, both of Work Point Barracks, were fined in city police court today for traffic offenses.

Winney was fined $10 for driving a car at nighttime without headlights. Dow was fined $25 for driving a car while he was not the holder of a current year's driver's license. Both pleaded guilty.

James Drysdale, four, Craigflower Post Office, slid on the floor at home and hit his head against a door. Four stitches were needed to close a cut over his left eye.

Another tree-climber, Gregory Pearson, six, came down to earth the fast way and also collected four stitches in his head.

Violet was the only youngster to remain in hospital. The boys all went home to show off their casts and needlework.

ASK The TIMES

Q. At the noon hour yesterday, while the downtown streets were crowded with traffic, I saw a car towing a young boy in his small motorless car, built to resemble the racing cars we see at the track. It carried no little license plate such as are required on trailers. Was this a breach of the law?—J.A.

A.—No. Towing is permitted, but Motor Vehicle Branch officials advise against this practice for common-sense reasons, because of the dangers involved.

Q.—What was, or is, the Union of Electors?—T.W.

A.—L'Union des Electeurs was a political party in Quebec which blossomed with even greater speed than the Social Credit party in B.C. It had candidates for all 92 seats in the Legislative Assembly in the Quebec provincial election of July 28, 1948. It canceled out 100 per cent, failing to elect even one member. The polling results were: Union Nationale (Duplessis' party), 82; Liberals, 8; Nationalists, 1; Independent, 1. The Electors disappeared, and when the general election of July 16, 1952, came they had no candidates.

Fancy Ribbon Gift Bows Are Ready to Attach!

By PENNY SAVER

When it comes to tying fancy ribbon bows on gifts, I'm all thumbs . . . just can't seem to get the knack of it! Looks as though I'm not alone in this respect, though, judging from some of the "masterpieces" I saw at a shower last night! There was one parcel that was wrapped with a ribbon bow that looked professionally tied. So I thought, aha! This is where I find out how it's done! Without giving a thought to the fact that I was being rude, I went right ahead and asked the artist how on earth she ever wrapped the gift so beautifully. I nearly fell over when she told me that she bought the ribbon with a matching "presto" bow. It comes on a card all ready to attach to the gift. All you have to do is spread the loops and you have a beautiful satin ribbon decoration. Comes in all the pretty pastel shades and costs just 25 cents for the bow and six yards of matching ribbon. Try it sometime! I'm going to!

I don't mind wearing bobby pins during the daytime, but when I go out in the evening I'd much prefer something with a little sparkle or shine to it. That's why I was so pleased when I discovered some rhinestone bobby pins! Full length of the pin is set with rhinestones of various shapes and sizes and you have a choice of patterns. Price is just $1.75 a pair.

Which reminds me! I saw some cute rhinestone barrettes the other day, too. They hold a larger lock of hair than the bobby pins do, so if your hair is thick . . . What more should I say? Price is $2 a pair, or $2 for a single larger clip.

Say! Did you know that you can buy foam rubber now, by the foot? It's half an inch wide and ideal for making such things as cushions for kitchen chairs. Price is 75 cents a square foot.

Announce Wedding Day

The engagement has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. James C. Corkle, 2887 Inlet Avenue, of their daughter, Norma Georgina, to Mr. Eugene Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Johnson, Revelstoke, the wedding to take place Sept. 19, at 8, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Miss Corkle is a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, 1952, and Mr. Johnson a graduate in engineering from UBC. He is affiliated with Phi Kappa Pi Fraternity. Mrs. R. Piercy will be matron of honor, Miss Marion Clare bridesmaid, and Misses Linda and Arlene Piercy junior bridesmaids. Best man will be Mr. John Duncan. All Women Not Gold-Diggers Says Pioneer Woman Lawyer

Most women are not gold-diggers, says Tiera Farrow, a practicing lawyer in Kansas City, Mo., for 50 years.

Miss Farrow, pink-cheeked and white-haired, has handled thousands of divorce cases in her long career in the law. Her verdict: "Most women don't want alimony these days, unless there are children to be supported. And even then many prefer to take over the responsibility of raising their offspring alone. Modern women are self-sufficient, able to stand on their own feet, and most of them get married or unmarried for love and not for money."

This pioneer female lawyer, whose book, "Lawyer in Petticoats," will soon be published, started her practice in 1903, when there were only 200 women lawyers in the country. Today there are 4,000. In those days, she says, judges were alarmed and spectators shocked to see a woman take her place in the lawyers' enclosure of a courtroom. She recalls:

"All lawyers rely heavily on precedent. But when I took my first case, I didn't have any precedent. I had never seen another woman lawyer. I didn't know whether I should take my hat off in the courtroom, or where I should sit, or anything. So I just had to figure it out for myself."

Soon, she says, she was able to overcome the prejudice against "lawyers in skirts" and prove that in certain cases a woman can be more effective than a man. One of these is in representing the wife in a divorce case. Says she:

"A woman just naturally understands the problems of another woman better than a man does. A man lawyer is likely to get impatient when his client rambles on and on, but a woman will listen and sympathize."

Miss Farrow, respected as a formidable opponent in Missouri courts, has studied at the State Bar Association, and at present, while continuing private practice, is legal aid counselor in the city welfare department. She is a former president of the Missouri Women's State Bar Association, and at present, while continuing private practice, is legal aid counselor in the city welfare department. Girl's Family Objects To Her Having Dates

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Having fun and enjoying life does not mean a person is "bad," as far too many people believe. This girl must convince her friend's family of that. She says:

(Q) "I have known a girl, who is 19 years old, for the past 12 years but never chummed with her until recently. Before that her mother wouldn't allow her to be with me because she thinks I'm wild. The girl herself doesn't think I'm wild, because she has been out with me on double dates. To my knowledge, this is the only time she has had fun and enjoyed herself. Both her brother and sister are in their late 20's and don't go dating, so the family doesn't think this girl should. Do you think this girl should have some clean, decent fun?"

(A) I certainly do think a girl of 19 should have some fun before the cares and responsibilities of adulthood begin to weigh upon her. If you can help her have this fun, without making trouble for her with her family, you will be doing her a great kindness.

Having dates as you approach adulthood is certainly no sign of "wildness." If you go out with nice young men, and if you help your friend to gain the sophistication in dating that most 19-year-old girls already have, you will do her a lot of good.

Be very tactful in handling the situation. Your friend's brother and sister may be jealous and may try to put a stop to her fun by poisoning their mother's mind about you.

When you go out on double dates, make a point of bringing the young men to your friend's home to pick her up and give her family a chance to meet them. Tell the family where you are planning to go and when you expect to return. All of this will go a long way toward convincing your friend's family that you are not the "wild" person her mother thought you were.

Pakistan Women Rapidly Entering All Phases of Life Speaker Tells

"Nobody could envisage the rapidity of change in women's status in Pakistan," said Begum Shaista I. Ikramullah, speaking before a packed auditorium at Club Sirocco, Wednesday afternoon. Political stress has bridged a tremendous gap and brought women in great numbers into public life, she told members and guests at the Women's Canadian Club meeting.

"When I was born," she continued, "my mother and grandmother lived behind walls and never ventured out. By the time I was grown up our women had entered political fields, were in the professions and had entered universities in all parts of the world."

Begum Ikramullah is wife of HE Mohammed Ikramullah, high commissioner of Pakistan who is shortly to proceed to France where he will represent his country in the future.

There has never been any opposition to women entering politics in Pakistan, Begum Ikramullah revealed. In fact, certain districts have two seats, one of which is reserved to women; but while men cannot compete for the women's legislative seats, there is nothing to stop women competing for any open seat.

WOULD BE MISSED

"However, in 10 years," she smiled, women won't need reserved seats any longer. The men will have become so used to us they will miss us if we are not there!"

The speaker remarked that she had been asked why so many more Pakistan women were in politics than Canadian. "The answer is that there are more problems of which we are acutely conscious. You cannot walk out of your house without being conscious of problems—they hit you in the eye!"

Pakistan was predominantly Moslem, the speaker explained, and upon division of the former empire, new problems faced women as thousands of Moslem refugees poured across the borders from Hindustani India.

"One in every eight persons in Pakistan is a refugee," she commented. The women of Pakistan had to deal with a mass of human misery—lost children, divided families, sickness and terror. How to rehabilitate this great number of people has been the great problem. That is why women have stepped so rapidly into public life.

What has already been accomplished in the new state is tremendous, but there is yet so much to be done, the audience was told. Women have opened schools and welfare centres. They have developed industry to overcome the difficulty women experience in trying to earn a living.

FEW HOSPITALS

Embroidery being one of the dominant and enduring skills Industrial Rooms have been set up in Karachi, the capital, Dacca and Lahore, where women who are widows and without support, can live, do their work and have it sold for them.

"We have very few hospitals—not more than half a dozen all told, numbering about five or six hundred beds each—this for a population of 76,000,000 people!"

She went on to say that women have been responsible for the opening of clinics for mothers and children, some of which have beds. Aside from this, they are playing an increasingly large part in professional and business life, but there is a great need for nurses and doctors. Canada and Great Britain have sent out nurses to train girls in the profession.

DEBT TO MISSIONARIES

Of education she remarked: "We owe a debt of gratitude to the missionary schools, both Catholic and Protestant. Our best educated men and women have come from these schools." Education is on the English system. There are government primary and secondary schools and each province has a university.

Young people get a school-leaving certificate after completing 10 grades and teaching is more intensive; there are fewer extra curricular activities. Education is free and scholarships are available but many more are needed. For technical or professional education most students come abroad.

Begum Ikramullah brought up the problem of Kashmir, explaining the present situation with regard to that buffer state which belongs to neither India nor Pakistan, but in which Indian troops are stationed.

"Kashmir, which is as large as France, has a Moslem population and a Hindustani ruler," she told her audience. "It is desirable that a plebiscite should be held in Kashmir to decide whether it belongs to India or Pakistan, but until Indian troops are withdrawn a plebiscite is not possible."

THREATENED STABILITY

"We have appealed to United Nations on this score without result so far. Consequently there is deterioration all round. We are spending too much of our slender budget for defense. Pakistan is one of the most stable countries in the East but our stability is threatened," she said.

Reasons for Pakistan wanting Kashmir she gave as partly sentimental but mostly economic. There are five rivers, three of which rise in India and two in Kashmir. India is now building dams on her side and Pakistan is losing 10 per cent of her water.

Also, she pointed out, Kashmir is a natural frontier, China and Russia lying immediately beyond her borders.

"We are only asking, however," she concluded, "that a free plebiscite be taken without Indian troops standing guard."

Mrs. E. S. Farr, president of the Women's Canadian Club, introduced and thanked the speaker at the close of her address.

Names of Couple Inscribed On Bells Marking Guest Pews

White satin ribbons and bells inscribed with names of the bride and groom marked the pews of HMCS Naden Chapel, recently, when Myra Bentham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bentham, 3475 Ripon Road, became the bride of James Henry John Nuttall, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nuttall, 25 Morrell Street, Brantford, Ont. Vases of pink roses, pink and white gladioli and pink and mauve sweet peas decorated the altar. Padre O. G. Peabbles officiated and during the signing of the register, "O Promise Me" was played on the organ by R. C. Ceverdon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported white lace and net with bouffant skirt and jacket which featured an Elizabethan collar and lily point sleeves. Her chapel-length veil flared from a coronet of lace set with seed pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and stephanotis. She wore as her only jewelry a heart-shaped gold locket, gift of the groom. Matron of honor, Mrs. Terry Wisznienski; bridesmaid, Miss Betty Norman, Kamloops, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Georgia Bentham, Vancouver, wore identical gowns of blue lace and net. Flower girl, Miss Lynn Bentham, wore a gown of pink satin. Matching coronet head-dresses were worn by the matron of honor, bridesmaid and floral headresses were worn by the junior bridesmaid and flower girl. All attendants carried colonial bouquets. Best man was the bride's brother, George H. Bentham, Vancouver, and ushers were R. McKimor and B. Verner.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Adderley, 1840 St. Ann Street. The newlyweds stood beneath a bridal arch of red roses and fern to receive guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by T. A.

Adderley and reception music was played by Mrs. Walker. After a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Nuttall will return to Victoria to make their home. For traveling, Mrs. Nuttall chose a pink and white angora dress, powder blue shortie coat and navy accessories. She wore a corsage of brier cliff roses.

Island Girl Weds U.S. Naval Man

At present honeymooning in Santa Rosa, Calif., are PO and Mrs. Charles R. Davis, who were married recently in the U.S. Naval Chapel at Treasure Island, San Francisco. Mrs. Davis, the former Margaret Genevieve Witham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon K. Witham, Duncan, V.I., was an attractive bride, gowned in a floor-length, full-skirted dress of white organdy, the dipped waistline bodice having soft touches of lace.

She wore a shoulder-length illusion net veil attached to a small seed pearl embroidered cap tipped with Formosa orange blossoms and carried a shower colonial bouquet of white stephanotis and an Australian orchid.

She was attended by Miss Barbara Peason of Portland, Ore., as maid of honor, wearing pale yellow frosted organza and carrying lavender carnations. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Christensen, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Among numerous telegrams received was a cable from the bride's brother in London, Eng.

Departing on a honeymoon, Mrs. Davis wore a fine all-wool crepe dress in soft green, featuring a self-capelet lined with printed Chinese silk. Her accessories were British tan and her corsage a brown orchid which had centred her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Davis will return to her teaching post at Lake Cowichan Junior-Senior High School this week, while her groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Davis of Duncan, who is in the United States Navy, finishes a course at Treasure Island, after which he will join his ship, the U.S.S. John R. Craig, serving in Korean waters.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Fall Clothes Refuse to Fit? Lose 10 Pounds Real Fast

If you have been sliding along for the past few weeks with the realization that your more or less loosely fitted play clothes are getting a little tight, or even worse, if you find that you can no longer wear some of them you wore at the beginning of the summer, it is best to face facts right now!

Unless you do you are going to be on the spot when you try on your fall and winter clothes. Has this ever happened to you? Do you remember your chagrin when you had nothing in early fall you could wear? You did not want to discard perfectly good costumes and buy new ones, and so there you were, with the necessity of refusing invitations and frantically trying to reduce.

Do not wait for the frosty winds to nip you before trying on your last year's suits and dresses if you suspect (or know) that you have gained weight. This is one way to put the pressure on your wilted determination. Once you see yourself looking somewhat like a stuffed pigeon, you will take action.

It is amazing how much difference five to eight pounds can make in the way your clothes look. The little roll over the girdle, the slight thickening through the waistline, the little pad of fat on the abdomen, can entirely rob you of that sleek feeling and can make a Hattie Carnegie look like a rag.

If you have only five to 10 pounds too much you can lose it in short order if you will settle down for a few days and take your diet seriously. An abdominal exercise, a hip exercise and a waist exercise (just three) will also speed the loss in inches. Try on those fall clothes right now!

Also look over the skin and hair situation in order to rectify the damage done by sun and wind. Give your hair and face and neck a little special treatment.

Usually I do not offer my nine-day diet except once, in the spring, but I cannot ask you to do something and then frustrate you. So, I am offering you my nine-day diet booklet as a first aid measure.

This diet brings you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days' time. If you would like to have it send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Don't wait to try on last year's suits and dresses if you suspect that you have gained weight.

Epic of Navy Warfare, 'Cruel Sea' at Odeon

Top-ranking officers of the Royal Canadian Navy will attend the first night, showing here of a film hailed as an epic of war at sea.

Nicholas Monsarrat's notable story, "The Cruel Sea," opens at the Odeon Theatre on Friday. The film plot follows the stirring novel's sequences, faithfully; so that it becomes almost a documentary of the naval forces' vital and often heroic services.

The motion picture version of the book gains authenticity from the collaboration of the Royal Navy. Not only did the senior service give technical advice and assistance, but made possible the filming of much of the story in ships on active service.

The frigate HMS Porchester Castle and the submarine Subtle were lent to the studios, and naval personnel were used in rescue and disaster scenes.

HMS Coreopsis plays HMS Compass Rose—a part the old corvette knows well.

Jack Hawkins and Donald Sinden star as Ericson and Lockhart in this Michael Balcon production of Monsarrat's best-seller.

Oak Bay Suspects Fireworks Ban May Be Ineffective

A proposed by-law which would prevent the sale of fireworks except for three days immediately prior to Halloween was referred to the legal advisor after discussion at Oak Bay council Wednesday night.

The new by-law would help control the damage from fireworks on and near Halloween.

Speaking on Victoria's by-law, which prohibits entirely all fireworks within the "jurisdictional limits of the city," the council felt that it could not be enforced.

It was pointed out that teenagers would manufacture their own firecrackers which would be far more dangerous than commercially made products.

"You'll have people smuggling in fireworks from Sidney," was the way Councillor George Gregory summed it up.

Reeve Archie Gibbs pointed out that Oak Bay's biggest Halloween problem was the removal of manhole covers.

100 YACHTS WILL RACE AT COWICHAN

Labor Day Regatta Draws Big Fleet

Sailboatmen from yacht clubs throughout the Pacific Northwest will compete in an annual international regatta Labor Day at Cowichan Bay.

Hosts will be members of the Maple Bay Yacht Club. More than 100 sailing craft are expected to attend to decide the awarding of the Sir Thomas Lipton Cup and the Cowichan Cup.

Most yachtsmen of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will take part, including Ned Ashe, whose "C" class cruiser May D now holds the Lipton Cup.

The RCN Sailing Association and the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club will be present along with several Puget Sound clubs.

Previous to the regatta proper, the final series of "A" class team races will be held in Cowichan Bay Saturday for the Endeavour Trophy.

Victoria, represented in the inter-club race by Max Young's Alcion, H. A. Wallace's Buccaneer III and R. V. James' Lalanga II, is currently leading on points.

Keen interest has been shown in plans for what will be the first annual inter-city predicted log race between Nanaimo and Victoria.

Open to cruisers and auxiliary sailing yachts up to 65 feet, with speed between five and 12 knots, the race will start at Nanaimo and finish at Cadboro Bay at 4 p.m. Sunday. Entries will be accepted until Saturday and already more than 20 crews have signed up.

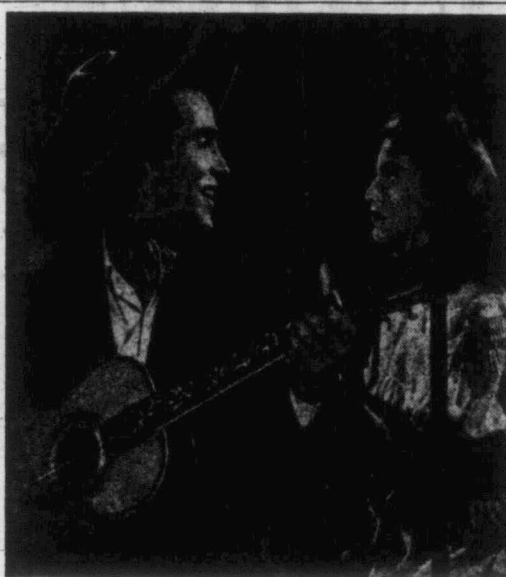

German Migrants May Be Solution To Labor Problem

A large number of married couples and family groups of German origin have arrived in Canada under sponsorship of the labor department, and soon will be available for employment.

They are expected to answer a long-standing problem of housewives seeking married couples for domestic work, farmers in need of land and dairy help and others with work desirable for a man and wife.

National Employment Service has complete details of their family backgrounds, religion and languages spoken, and will make all arrangements for the transportation of these persons to B.C., providing the employer will hire them for a one-year period.

However, in spite of the screaming police sirens in the sinister shadows of the darkened city, and the inevitable chase (this one is over a railway trestle), there is far too much movie-style love-making and gangster-type soliloquies to give the movie the stark, grim, urgency upon which 90 per cent of the success of this type of picture depends.

Actually there is nothing wrong (or very little) with stars Gig Young, Mala Power or Edward Arnold. They carried out their assignments tolerably well. It is merely that "City That Never Sleeps" is no great shakes as a story.

Those who have cut their teeth on such thriller-dillers as "Little Caesar," "The Doorway to Hell" and others of comparable toughness will find this quite dull.

Canadian Buyers Switch To Larger British Cars

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian purchases of British automobiles are shifting to models larger than the predominant "small English car."

This shift is one of the more notable developments in United Kingdom car sales in Canada, a British trade official said in an interview here.

In the first five months of this year 28 per cent of imported British cars had cylinder displacements of 1½ litres, as compared with the 1¼-litre motors of the majority of such imports.

"This suggests an intermediate requirement for cars in Canada," the official said.

The average "intermediate" car is of 60 to 80 horsepower, he said, and is still below the 100 to 120 horsepower of the average Canadian-built car.

Calgary Writer, Wife Injured in Motel Explosion

SPOKANE, Wash. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, well-known Calgaryans, are in serious condition in a Spokane hospital after a gas explosion which wrecked their motel at Dishman, Wash., near Spokane, on Tuesday.

Public relations officer for Sick's Breweries, in Calgary, and former sports editor of The Albertan, Mr. Scott and his wife, Laura, were on holiday when the accident occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Scott sustained first, second and third-degree burns mainly above the waist. They were taken to a Spokane hospital.

Passenger Succumbs From Stroke in Bus

Wong Goon, 74-year-old Chinese of 540 Cormorant Street, died after he had collapsed with a heart attack on a Cadboro Bay bus Tuesday afternoon.

Marty Miller, 1015 Queens, drove his bus to the Oak Bay Fire Hall, after the Chinese had collapsed, to get emergency resuscitator service. Firemen worked on the man for over a half an hour but were unable to revive him. Goon was a gardener employed in the Uplands.

Victoria and District Film Council will meet this evening at 8 in the National Film Board screening room, 1217 Wharf Street.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Fracture Victim Needs Aid Quickly, But Move Carefully

There are many causes for broken bones and few families escape this experience. A broken bone or fracture requires attention as soon as possible. A person with a broken bone should not move or be moved except with great care, as the fracture may be made worse by motion. Splinting with a board or some other rigid substance is advisable before moving.

If a person fractures the lower leg while wearing high boots, the boots should not be taken off until after reaching the hospital, as the boot itself serves as a sort of splint. The proper splinting and moving of a patient who has sustained a fracture may make a great deal of difference in the setting of the fracture and the time in which it takes to heal.

Once a person who has a fracture has been brought to the hospital, skilled care is important. X-ray films must be taken to show just where the fracture is and the position of the fragments. To do this the X-ray films have to be "shot" from different angles.

If the two parts of bone can be brought together in good position, then healing should take place easily, especially in younger people. When the fragments are brought in proper position, the parts must be kept from moving to give the bone a chance to grow together. This rest is generally accomplished by using a plaster-of-Paris cast.

Sometimes it is difficult to put the fragments back where they will heal properly and in good position. It may be necessary to pull the pieces apart with weights until they can be slipped into place. Occasionally, it is necessary to do what is called an open operation and use a knife to enter the fractured area, remove small pieces of bone and place the two ends of bone together, perhaps inserting pins, staples, plates or screws to hold them in place. This often brings good results where other methods fail.

It is no easy job to select the best treatment and to apply it properly. The healing or knitting of bone usually takes several weeks and almost anyone who has sustained a fracture must make up his mind to a long period of disability.

A fracture can be anything from a slight crack in the bone to a severe break in which the bone is knocked into small bits or even sticks out through the flesh. As a result, there is a great deal of difference in what kind of treatment to use.

THREE GET JAIL TERM

Syphoning of gasoline from cars in the Colwood-Langford area has resulted in three young men receiving six-month jail terms from Magistrate A. I. Thomas in RCMP court at Colwood.

14-Year Strike Ended, Picket Happy

CHICAGO (AP)—A 14-year-old strike ended Wednesday and a persistent picket who had been pavement-pounding past the place for 12 years said, "I'm glad. It was getting kind of monotonous."

The AFL Auto Mechanics Union started picketing the Peterson Chevrolet Co. on the South Side in July, 1939.

Alexander "Scotty" Orr has patrolled the walks in front of the salesrooms since 1941. The union paid his wages.

Scotty said he figured he had walked 40,000 miles during his picketing, marching eight hours every day, rain, snow or shine, except Sunday and holidays.

The union's business agent announced the end of the strike.

He said the firm agreed to a contract after its mechanics agreed to become union members.

Patriarch of Short Creek Polygamous Colony Dead

SHORT CREEK, Ariz. (AP)—Joseph Smith Jessop, bearded patriarch of the polygamous colony at Short Creek, died Tuesday night.

The 83-year-old leader, looked up to as the father of his community, succumbed after days of grieving over the fate that had descended upon his town.

The state of Arizona raided the settlement near the Utah border July 26 and arrested virtually every man, woman and child. Some of the women and children were taken to Phoenix in state custody.

Jessop was one of 35 men, 72 women and 15 juveniles who were arrested in the July raid.

Goldenrod is the official flower of more states than any other American plant.

Bennett, Gordon Talk Railways

Premier Bennett and CNE President Donald Gordon this afternoon discussed the general question of railroad development in B.C. and particularly the Peace River area.

In a carefully-worded statement after the discussion, Mr. Gordon said:

"We recognize a common interest in the railways and the government of B.C. in the development of the potentialities of the Peace River area."

"On the basis of that, we are each to give careful study to development of this potential and our conference will continue from time to time as circumstances develop."

"We have a common interest in development of the Peace River and we have joint hope we can see means of providing services to that area."

Tito Asks Big-Three Assistance

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP)—Marshal Tito's government has asked the United States, Britain and France to get Italy to withdraw its troops from the Yugoslav frontier, it was reported today.

The report came from the news agency YugoPress in a comment on visits diplomatic envoys of these western powers paid Wednesday to Foreign Under-Secretary Alois Bebler—their second visit in two days.

Patty Defeats Australian Ace

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UP)—Budge Patty of Los Angeles, Wimbledon champion in 1950, knocked the top-flight Australian out of the U.S. tennis championships today by upsetting southpaw Mervyn Rose, 7-9, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

Shortly after 39-year-old Gardner Mulloy of Miami, last year's runner-up, erased one foreign threat by defeating bearded Torben Ulrich of Denmark, with a brilliant comeback, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

U.S. Rail Conductors Cancel Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today announced the Order of Railway Conductors has cancelled a strike called for Sept. 10.

The national mediation board said that representatives of the carriers and the conductors' union had agreed to postpone negotiations on the issue until after Oct. 1.

Running Gun Fight Marks Mine Violence

Union Official, Partner Face Arson Charges in Outbreak at Broulan Reef

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Police arrested two men, one a union official, after a running gun battle at the strike-bound Broulan Reef gold mine early today and accused them of attempted murder and attempted arson.

Ontario Provincial Police laid the charges against Patrick Walsh, 26, president of the United Steelworkers of America CIO-CCL local at McIntyre Gold Mines, and Alphonse Norkum, 32, a miner. They were held without bail at nearby South Porcupine jail.

Police said they also charged the two men with carrying offensive weapons.

Cut Rate Car Insurance In Two Weeks

Over-the-Counter Service Assured

All-State Insurance, a subsidiary of Sears-Roebuck Ltd. which gained recognition in the United States for selling cheap "over-the-counter" car coverage, will start operating in British Columbia within two weeks.

The company will offer car insurance at an average of 17 per cent below prices offered by other companies.

A company spokesman told the Times from Vancouver today an office has been established at 1980 Burrard Street "and will be open for business in two weeks."

AMBUSHED

The charges came a few hours after two men were ambushed near the Broulan Reef shaft house 10 miles east of here in the rich Porcupine gold-mining area. Police said the men were on their way to burn down the shaft house.

Norkum is an employee of Paymaster Gold Mines. Neither Paymaster nor McIntyre is involved in the walkout of nearly 1,000 steelworkers in the area.

Norkum was arrested on the Reef property near here by a squad of police stationed around it in anticipation of the arson attempt. A second man escaped into the nearby bush and got away after an exchange of shots with police.

The shooting, which broke out in pre-dawn darkness, was the latest in a series of skirmishes—including two dynamitings—that have occurred since 350-odd Broulan workers struck nearly eight weeks ago for higher wages and shorter working hours. The walkout spread to three other mines and left 1,000 miners out of work.

During the shooting, a bullet passed through the tunic of Constable David Plaut of Timmins about two inches from his heart. However, no one was injured.

Police said a Colt automatic was found at the spot where Norkum was arrested and ammunition to fit the weapon was found in his pocket. A gallon can of gasoline also was found there.

Police plan to search the surrounding bush today for a German Luger or similar weapon that uses nine millimetre ammunition. They said Walsh was unarmed when arrested.

DONALD GORDON

Atomic Locomotive Ahead Says Gordon

CNR Head Tells Businessmen Here Of Technical Progress Made By Rails

The possibility of an atomic-powered locomotive was visualized today by Donald Gordon, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways.

In an address to a joint luncheon meeting of Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel, Mr. Gordon said this possibility lies beyond the gas turbine.

"We know that atomic energy can be harnessed to drive a submarine, and it may well prove feasible as an instrument of railway motive power, although no one seems yet to have discovered a way of safely installing an atomic pile within the more confined space of a locomotive," he said.

Meanwhile, the field of technical efficiency is the "only one in which we are still allowed latitude to exercise our own judgment."

"We are taking advantage of advances in engineering science to improve our operating efficiency and reduce costs."

ONE EXAMPLE

Mr. Gordon cited the CNR's dieselization program as one example of how the railway is keeping pace with technological progress. However, he added the CNR is not in any sense committed to the universal adoption of any single type of motive power.

Research is currently being carried on in many quarters with the aim of developing new power plants. He said that the gas turbine locomotive, when perfected, might prove superior to the diesel in selected classes of service, and that it would

City Council Refuses To Become Involved

City council ruled today that leave of absence for Percy Wright, Victoria MLA and assistant city clerk, is up to city manager Cecil Wyatt.

Council refused to step in and resolve the current stalemate. Mr. Wright had written the manager asking for leave to attend a special session of the Legislature Sept. 15. The manager wrote his department head, Frank Hunter, city clerk, quoting the city solicitor's advice to the effect that the city had no legal authority to grant the leave.

Mr. Wright, in the meantime, awaited a direct approval or refusal.

Ald. Frank Mulliner asked the manager for a "combination report and decision" at council meeting today.

"It can't drag on like this," he said. "The House will be sitting shortly and the position should be defined."

"Ald. Don Smith objected. Council should only discuss the matter if the manager asks for guidance," he said.

Mr. Wyatt quoted a letter "in draft form to the city clerk" which he said he wrote Aug. 3. In it he said in his considered opinion Mr. Wright should not be granted leave for the period asked, which was about one month.

Mr. Wyatt said in the letter, however, that if Mr. Wright asked for leave without pay for the anticipated four-year life of the government, he would have no hesitation in recommending such leave.

He felt the matter had to be considered in the light of four years, and not just in regard to the coming session.

"Leave is in the hands of the city manager," said Ald. William Pinfold. "I don't think it's any of our concern. If the manager wants to give Mr. Wright leave of absence, it is his affair. If not, that is also his affair."

Ald. Percy Scourrah agreed, and said he could not see why the city did not have legislative power to approve the leave.

British Columbians will be able to buy the insurance through the mail. Circulars are now being sent out.

All-State is fully licensed to operate in the province. Its move into B.C. is linked with the Simpson-Sears expansion here. (Simpson-Sears joined last year with Simpson's to form Simpson-Sears Ltd.)

It has been contended the across-the-counter policies eliminate administration costs and agents' commission, which has been estimated to take as much as a 35-cent bite out of every premium dollar.

Ships Limp Into Seattle After Crash in Strait

SEATTLE (AP)—The freighters Nashua Victory and North Beacon limped into port under their own power today after a collision off the mouth of the Strait of Juan de Fuca. The Coast Guard said neither vessel was believed seriously damaged. An inspection crew was ordered aboard to make a survey.

The ships collided in heavy fog off Umatilla lightship Wednesday afternoon.

The Coast Guard said the Nashua Victory, which was under charter to the United States government, was en route to San Francisco from Seattle. The North Beacon sailed from San Francisco Sunday for Seattle.

Minister of State Quits Post in French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Minister of State Francois Mitterrand resigned from the French cabinet today in protest over the government's policies regarding the troubled North African port of Algiers.

The 37-year-old minister, most liberal member of Premier Joseph Laniel's right-wing coalition government, handed in his resignation Wednesday. The premier asked Mitterrand to think it over, but after a long talk with Laniel this morning, the minister said he definitely was leaving.

"I couldn't see where my ideas had much influence on government policy," he said, "and the minimum of honesty required for a politician in such a case is to go."

A long-standing feud between Mitterrand and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault came to a head during a cabinet meeting

CHICAGO (CP)—A motorist who ignored traffic summonses and eluded police for more than a year was fined $5,349 here Wednesday by municipal judge Joseph Butler who said the penalty is the heaviest ever imposed for traffic offences in the United States.

Jerry Levenson, alias L. J. Borwen, 27, was fined for 71 violations, most of them speeding. He was arrested last week.

PW Exchange Ends Sunday

Six More Canadians Returned From Prison Camps of North Korea

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists and the United Nations command today agreed to complete the prisoner exchange by Sunday.

The Communists at a meeting of the repatriation commission said that if for some reason they are unable to meet the Sunday deadline they will notify the UN command before noon Saturday.

Maj.-Gen. William Dean, the highest ranking Allied captive in Red hands, now is at Kaesong and it is believed he will be the last prisoner exchanged.

PANMUNJOM, Korea (BUP)—Six Canadian soldiers returned today from the hell camps of North Korea to the 25th Brigade.

Fifteen Canadians remained on the missing-in-action list. There was no indication from the Communists that any of these were being held prisoner, although the exchange program still had three days to go.

All six Canucks freed today appeared healthy and in good spirits. They jumped from the Russian trucks bringing them to Panmunjom and eagerly answered the roll call.

"You bet I'm here," shouted Cpl. John Jollymore, of Toronto, a prisoner since October.

Liberated with him were Capt. Joseph Liston of Ottawa, the highest-ranking Canadian prisoner; L.-Cpl. William Bell and L.-Cpl. Robert Eakins of Toronto; L.-Cpl. Gerald McKinney of Melita, Man., and Pte. Thomas Allan of Montreal.

They brought to 30 the number of Canadians set free since the exchange program began 30 days ago although the Reds said at the outset they held only 14. Twelve of the 30 previously had been listed as missing.

Two other Canadians, L.-Cpl. Paul Dugal of Quebec City and Pte. William Allan Baker of Montreal, were freed last spring in "Operation Little Switch," the repatriation of sick and wounded prisoners.

1,000 U.S. Planes Off Production List

WASHINGTON (UP)—Air force sources disclosed today that 900 to 1,000 airplanes have been ordered eliminated from current production plans.

About 75 per cent of the planes to be eliminated are fighters and bombers to have been delivered about two years hence.

Pentagon sources estimated the cutback will save $700,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

CCF Leader Raises Campaign Fund Issue

Allegations of contravention of the Elections Act in handling campaign funds brought demands today from CCF Leader Arnold Webster and Stan Wilcox, a vice-president of the Social Credit Association of Vancouver-Burrard that Health Minister Eric Martin resign his seat in the Legislature.

Mr. Martin has said he will not resign.

"This is a very silly bit of business," he said.

Mr. Wilcox said Mr. Martin's resignation would be in the best interests of the movement and Mr. Martin.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett refused to comment.

The B.C. Social Credit League board of directors is slated to consider a demand that Archie Waugh, Martin's official agent, be expelled from the league.

The expulsion demand was made by the executive of the Burrard Association as a result of allegations by Mr. Wilcox that Mr. Martin's campaign funds had been handled in a manner that contravened the B.C. Elections Act.

League president John Perdue has said he will support the recommendation, as a result of evidence presented to him by Mr. Wilcox and the association.

The association investigated the situation after Mr. Wilcox's charges and his threat to file an election petition to upset Mr. Martin's election.

Mr. Wilcox postponed his action during the federal election to "campaign on behalf of Peers Paynter."

The board of directors of the B.C. Social Credit League will meet Sept. 10 to consider the issue.

Arrests of the sabotage-bent thousands of Communists sent here to disrupt the election had been given instructions to pick up the forged ballots at assembly points deep inside West Germany.

A spokesman for the Bonn government announced Wednesday night that two big youth organizations have volunteered to help combat what he said was a Kremlin plot to sabotage the balloting by creating chaos.

The two volunteer groups are the Federal Youth League and the German Sport Association.

Despite tight frontier checks, mass arrests and an emergency police alert throughout West Germany, thousands of the Red agents were believed to have evaded the police blocks.

The chief target of the Communists, from Moscow down through the ranks, is the Christian Democrat regime of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and its policy of co-operating with the West to build up military defenses against possible Communist aggression.

Despite tight frontier checks, mass arrests and an emergency police alert throughout West Germany, thousands of the Red agents were believed to have evaded the police blocks.

The chief target of the Communists, from Moscow down through the ranks, is the Christian Democrat regime of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and its policy of co-operating with the West to build up military defenses against possible Communist aggression.

Arrests of the sabotage-bent thousands of Communists sent here to disrupt the election had been given instructions to pick up the forged ballots at assembly points deep inside West Germany.

A spokesman for the Bonn government announced Wednesday night that two big youth organizations have volunteered to help combat what he said was a Kremlin plot to sabotage the balloting by creating chaos.

The two volunteer groups are the Federal Youth League and the German Sport Association.

Irish Gold Dust Twins Refuse to Quit

Bumped, battered, bruised and bloody, Whitey Severson and Archie Browning, two of the gamest athletes ever to play for a local team, led Victoria Shamrocks to a thrilling 14-11 victory over Vancouver Pilseners Wednesday night in the third game of the Inter-city Lacrosse League finals. Checked unmercifully by the Pils. Severson was forced to don a protective helmet after his nose was broken in the third period. Browning is seen here after he scored his third goal of the game and then collapsed in a heap from complete exhaustion and the pummeling given him by his checks. Ignoring the pain of his nose, a jubilant Severson leans over his buddy with congratulations. (Times photo by Bill Halkett. See sports page for story, additional pictures.)
